

Complete Decode of Dana Coverstone's "Birds and Maul" Dream

I do think Dana Coverstone is a true prophet of these End Times and all of his prophetic dreams which he receives are about the lead up to the election here in the United States, which we held back in November 3rd

Pastor Dana Coverstone

2020 and the aftermath. So what we are going to see today in the “Birds and Maul Dream” is part of the aftermath of the election, in other words the immediate future. Dana Coverstone is not prophesying ten, twenty or a hundred years from now or maybe a thousand years from now or two thousand years from now, as some of the Old Testament prophets. He's prophesying about things that will happen in the coming weeks and months.

So what I will be doing is a complete decode of his “Birds and Maul Dream”. That means I'm going to go through every verse, verse by verse, and I think we will find that God is very displeased with the partisan nature of our society. It is divided. There is no unity and what it's going to lead to, is another, I believe, revolutionary war. Verse number 1:

“I saw two distinct flocks of birds flying above a four-lane interstate and there was a median in between. I saw that traffic was very heavy and at times bumper-to-bumper but the speed of all the vehicles was over the posted limit. It was obvious these people were driving like crazy, going someplace and coming away from another place.”

So this very first part, of the very first verse, kind of sets the scene and I would say that this indicates western civilization, and primarily of course the United States. And we see terms like bumper-to-bumper and four lane interstate. There are not that many parts of the world that that would fit, but it certainly fits the United States, but there's a phrase in here that indicates the end of the United States and of western civilization. In other words the end of Babylon and that is the phrase ‘crazy’. Dana says they're ‘driving like crazy’ and that harkens back to

Daniel chapter number 4, when the king of Babylon, Nebuchadnezzar goes crazy for seven years, so I think what we have to be concerned about is Dana prophesying that America will go crazy for seven years. So let's look at verse number 2.

“The people in the opposite lane were driving even faster than the ones that were coming against traffic. Basically, I’m going this way and the other traffic was going that way, as I’m watching the birds. The drivers and the people in the opposite lane were driving even faster and even more erratic like they were running from something. They were trying to get away. The drivers both coming and going seemed angry: they had white knuckle grips on the steering wheels and they were pounding the dash and screaming at other drivers.”

So these people were very, very upset. So we see two groups here, and I think it's quite simple to decode which group is which. Those in the left lane; that is, coming against us, would be those on the Left, in other words the Democrats or the Left, the Left leaning people. Those in the right lane, the lane that we are in and through Dana Coverstone, we would be on the right, the Republicans so to speak, and I think that's the division that we are talking about here. We are talking about a political division.

Notice that both sides are angry, but the ones on the left are even angrier. They are driving even faster. They are more erratic and it says that they are running from something, Dana says. Are they running from justice? And does this indicate that Donald Trump may be inaugurated after all? I mean why would the left be even more angrier than on the right? I mean I can see why the Rhino Republicans would be angry, but the Left would be even angrier. So let's look at the next verse, verse number 3.

“And the birds; now the birds were all crows but they're in two very tight groups and they appeared to have like tens of thousands of birds in each group. So you've got tens of thousands of crows in two distinct groups all flying in the same general direction. They were headed in the same direction as the traffic in the right two lanes going forward and appeared to be going towards a tunnel. It appeared it was a tunnel miles and miles ahead but I could see it was a big enough tunnel that you could see it from where we were.”

Now birds in prophecy generally symbolize spirits. The Holy Spirit for example is always symbolized by a dove, but these are black birds. These are crows, and that would indicate evil spirits or evil souls I believe that these crows, even though they are going in one direction, that is the same direction as the Republicans, I believe they symbolize both groups. The reason Dana shows the two groups at the beginning on the highway going in opposite directions is to give their political affiliation, but we see that their spirits are very similar, the evil spirits.

And those spirits hovering above or flying above the cars, they represent the spirits of the people in those cars, and they are all going in the same direction, and they are heading towards a black tunnel just up ahead. So let's look at verse number 4.

“As I was kind of in the dream, kind of following the birds, that's what I was seeing, I was seeing what was going on with them and they were headed towards this tunnel miles ahead. Now, the flocks would bump into each other as they're flying. Both separate groups are flying. They would hit each other almost violently and you would see when they would bump into each other a few birds would fall out, hit the ground hard, and never get back up or return to flight.”

So as I say, I believe these two groups of black crows represent the two groups on the ground, and we see that they bump into each other and there's animosity between the two groups, even though we see them in their spirit headed towards the same direction. And I think Republicans and Democrats, even though they are driving in opposite lanes, they do have very much the same goal, and we know that that goal is the goal of the Deep State. Let's look at verse number 5.

“And those flocks of birds, those groups, just kept going. The two groups were intentionally flying into each other and it caused damage to the birds in both groups. Every time the two groups hit, it basically damaged the birds and birds were falling and hurting but they just kept going and it wasn't like they were fighting but at times it seemed that there was conflict between the two groups of birds which were crows.”

So I think this is a pretty good description of the Democrats and the Republicans. Even though they're not actually fighting, there is a lot of intense animosity and the animosity seems intentional, and Dana Coverstone reiterates here that both sides are represented by evil black souls or crows. Let's look at verse number 6.

“Then off of where the birds were flying there seemed to be like little flashes of lightning. And upon seeing this, one lead bird would take off. So you'd have the group right here and one bird would take off away and several birds would follow that lead bird. And the lead bird was weaving and moving really, really quickly up and down and through the oncoming traffic. But each bird in the lead on either side, it came off both sides. So both groups of birds had lead birds that flew off chasing this lightning and leaving other birds behind that almost like it took off and the birds followed.”

So we see little flashes of lightning and this stimulates the lead birds. It's kind of giving them marching orders. If these were large flashes of lightning, that would indicate that these were messages from Almighty God. I don't think they are. I think because these are little flashes of lightning, they indicate temptations or the directions of demons and there are representatives or leaders from both the Democrat and the Republican crows who follow after these flashes of little light. These messages are from the demonic. Let's look at the next verse, verse number 7.

“Each bird in the lead on either side also began to move dangerously and the birds following seemed to be getting dizzy because they were following, they were confused but they kept following but they were just getting dizzy and the wings weren't working as well and they're trying to figure it out; they were making real sharp turns and things like that.”

So it's interesting that the Republicans and the Democrats who follow their leaders are confused, and they're evidently not attuned to the lightning from the demons that the leadership is. And we see phony leaders like that on the right. You see people like Mitch McConnell, Mike Pence, John Roberts, people like that; those are the Rhinos. They're just as crooked as on the other side. On the other side, the Left, we see crows; black spirited people like Nancy Pelosi, Joe Biden, Kamala Harris and so on. So I think this is a pretty accurate in indication of the two parties and the leadership of those two parties which is correct. Verse number 8:

“Finally, the lead birds led the followers right into absolute danger. One was flying, with the birds behind, towards a semi and just suddenly real quick, just went straight up, and the birds behind following him actually hit the semi head-on and all those birds were killed. The other bird led a group into an overpass and just at the last second lifted up and the birds behind him hit the overpass and then fell to the ground and were dead.”

And I think this is a pretty good indication of the leadership in the parties. They're following the demons. They lead people in their party. People in the party follow them and it leads to their destruction and as I say there's no honor among thieves. For example, a lot of people think that Bernie Sanders won the Democrat nomination in 2016 and also 2020 and it was denied him. In other words he crashed into the semi or into the overpass. In other words his political future was stymied by his own party and that's kind of interesting, that if I read this correctly, the lead Republican birds lead their followers into destruction.

They hit a semi-tractor/trailer and the lead birds on the Democrat side led their followers into a collision with a cement overpass. I tried to figure out why that would be; if there's any significance to that. It may not be I may just I'm not I suspect there is a significance but I have not figured out so, if some of you figure out what is meant by that make it maybe that's a good comment for you to add in the chat below. Let's look at verse number 9.

“And the lead birds then went back in the flying flocks and did the same thing over, and over, and over, probably three or four times and they were taking birds off of the groups and then taking them out and basically killing them by leading them into danger. The birds continued flying towards the tunnel and carried all four lanes of traffic.”

Verse number 10: “And there were large American flags hanging over this tunnel above where the cars were coming and going. It was almost like an overpass as well. The tunnel was underneath the overpass and these American flags were laid there on the overpass part of it. And these flags were dirty, they were ragged, they were tattered. They looked like they were connected to strips of fabric that almost looked like candy cane.”

So that's kind of an interesting image. These American flags are obviously in pretty bad shape. I think that's a commentary on the United States under the leadership of the Republicans and the Democrats. It looks like America is on the verge of destruction. Let's look at verse number 11.

“There were red and white stripes you know kind of like the sign you see outside of a barber shop. The fabric was kind of like that and it connected all these flags together and the flags covered the entire overpass over this huge tunnel that encompassed all four lanes of traffic that were coming and going.”

Now Dana Coverstone doesn't use the term, but I think that this fabric that connects the flag is called bunting. And it's interesting that the only words that come to Dana Coverstone's mind in describing this bunting are things like candy canes and barber poles and I think that's interesting because they are very mundane descriptions of this bunting.

And of course barber poles, I mean the red on a barber pole signifies blood. I don't know if you're aware of that or not, but barbers used to practice medicine to a degree and they would bleed people. That was one of the old-fashioned ways of healing somebody. You would go in and have a barber cut you open and you would lose some of your blood. That's why barber poles are red and white. I'm not sure that's why the barber poles occurred to Dana, but I suspect the Holy Spirit told him to say that it looks like barber poles. Verse number 12:

“And there was wind. And the wind that was blowing there were no storm clouds. It wasn't like a tornado, or anything coming, it was just real bad wind. And the flags were just whipping and being tattered and torn as they were being blown like that and they were ripped. They were being ripped violently by this wind: it was a very, very strong wind.”

And wind is another sign of the Holy Spirit and I think this indicates the judgment is coming to America. That's why it's ripping these flags apart.

And now in this next verse we see an angel, and I think this angel represents the Holy Spirit. In other words he is doing the Holy Spirit's bidding and I believe you'll see that this angel represents Saint Michael Verse 13:

“And then the man that I've seen so often in my dreams, he showed up and he was standing on the flags that lay on the cement embankment over the tunnel. He was standing on them looking towards the birds. He was wearing a metal medieval helmet, like you would have seen, and I'm just going to use this term, I was thinking about it like Charlemagne's group of crusaders that would have gone, those metal helmets that fit over their head with a little cross extension you could see out and it protected your head and your neck.”

Chainmail

Verse 14: “He was also wearing chain mail, medieval chain mail that protected the soldier from swords and knives. But he also had a long sword about the size of a Scottish Claymore sword. It seemed almost as big as him but it was a claymore and the Scottish claymores were just known to be very, very large, long swords.

Scottish Claymore long sword and a Basket Hilt sword.

They also had the Basket Hilt on it. Some of you may know what I’m talking about.”

So I think that is a pretty good description of Saint Michael the archangel, especially with the huge sword. I looked up Claymore swords and they were long. They looked like double-edged swords and that hilt that he's talking about was a kind of metal protection on the handle of the sword to protect the hands in combat. The next verse is number 15.

Metal Maul and Spike

“And in one hand he was holding a very, very large metal spike as tall as himself. It was just like he was holding it here by himself. It was as tall as him. He also had a huge metal maul, what you would use to hit a wedge to split wood. It was just this huge maul about the size of his head and he had his hand on the handle and the maul was on the ground. He was holding it so he has this huge metal spike which is kind of down like it's going to be driven into the ground. And this huge maul a very, very heavy maul.”

Now Dana Coverstone sometimes gets his grammar wrong but I’m reading it pretty much the way he had it, and he sometimes repeats himself. It makes it more spontaneous the way he does it, so I try to copy it pretty accurately to the words that he uses, and you can watch his own his original video and I think you'll see what I mean.

And I think this huge maul and Saint Michael and all of this, shows that this judgment from the phony politicians on both the right and the left is going to be a terrible judgment. Let's look at verse 16 next. And by the way I have divided these, into these verses. His original prophecy does not. It's not broken down into verses like this. Verse 16:

“And as the birds got closer to the tunnel, the man who now looked like he was about 10 feet tall, he took the position to hold it, and he took that spike and he held it right in front of him on the ground. It was on top of the flags. It was on top of the embankment area. It was on top of the overpass so to speak. He sees these birds coming and he takes up this position. He looked like he was about ten feet tall.”

And so Dana Coverstone mentions it twice. This I believe is an angel. He calls him a man. I'm sure it's an angel and I'm sure it's Saint Michael. He's about 10 feet tall and St Michael is usually portrayed as a very tall warrior and he's wearing armour and metal and mail like a medieval soldier. It's pretty clear that his judgment is about to come on America.

Notice in that verse, that the arrival of the birds, that is the black crows, the evil spirits, that is what prompts Michael to take up his position, and I think what that indicates is that this is a spiritual battle. And he takes up his position against the birds that are flying above the people. Let's look at verse 17:

Anvil

“He holds the spike at the top of the flags and then he lifted the maul into the air and this thing was huge. And the maul appeared to change. It became not a maul it was now an anvil, an anvil like you'd see in a metal shop or something. A huge anvil on this wooden handle and there was blood dripping down from the anvil and it was dripping down onto the man's hand. So even as he holds the maul like this he is seeing the blood coming down on his hands.”

So notice that Michael drives this huge spike through the flags, through the American flags. I think that is another indication that this will be a judgment on America or certainly on the political leaders of America both the right and the left. Verse 18:

“And the traffic disappears and the road became like a runway. And both groups of birds now merged together and they are flying particularly fast, I mean, almost like a stealth bomber. These black crows are all together and they're just moving as one now towards the tunnel, trying to get into the tunnel. The tunnel was now very much larger and the dark hole was now filled with people wandering around blind with masks over their face.”

So what an interesting turn of events here. So now we see that the birds are undistinguished from each other. They're all black crows both the right and the left, and of course we figured that out. And the people are also all together in this cavern or cave, and this tunnel has become a huge black hole. And it's interesting that people are wandering around blind. That's because the partisan Republicans, the partisan Democrats, they are blind. They're spiritually blind and the leaders are blind. So I think we are reaching the climax of this dream and it's not going to turn out too well for the Republicans and the Democrats. Let's look at verse number 19:

“And they were using the white cane. That's what it's called a white cane, the stick that they unfold, and they walk with it in front of them. So all these people they're walking like they're blind. They've got masks over their face and they're using these white canes. They're walking in this tunnel and they're walking underneath. So no one knows what's going on. They can't see what's happening; they are not aware of what's happening but they're walking and they're blind.”

So both sides Republicans Democrats, the left and the right, they are totally clueless to this coming judgment. That's what Dana Coverstone is prophesying about in this amazing dream. Let's look at verse number 20.

“Birds are getting close to the tunnel and that's when the man placed the spike securely with his hand, looked at the spike, took up that anvil or maul in his hands and he began to pound and drive that stake; it was almost feverishly. It was as fast as he could. He was pounding, pounding, pounding that stake. The birds kept getting closer; they kept flying towards him.” Verse number 21:

Earth Fissure

“And he keeps pounding, suddenly the ground trembles and it cracks open and there's like air that rushed to the surface like it'd been trapped down there somewhere. I don't think it was necessarily from the tunnel but it just looked like there were these pressure gaps that came up through the soil where he was standing. He kept pounding and pounding and pounding until the tunnel began to collapse and the ground was shaking uncontrollably to the point of beginning to split.”

Verse 22: “And then he takes off his helmet and begins pounding even more feverishly. And the ground's shaking and the ceiling tunnel begins to collapse on the people that are underneath there and in it. And the people, they're unaware; they are totally unaware of the rocks falling on them. And they continue just to meander aimlessly and debris and stuff is falling on them and it's just pound the ground. They just lay there and got hit.”

So now the disaster is falling on the politically corrupt leadership of this country both the left and the right. This judgment obviously comes from Almighty God. It sounds like an earthquake. You know Jesus said there would be earthquakes in diverse places in the End Times. Notice that this judgment comes from above, through Michael the archangel.

This reminds me very much of the judgment of the sixth seal in the Book of Revelation. Remember the people are in the caves in the Book of Revelation? And they cry out for the rocks to fall on them in order to escape God's judgment. And I'm wondering now, do you suppose this is what Dana saw in this dream? The judgment? That's found in Revelation chapter 6:16. People think they're going to be safe, especially the world elites. They think they're going to be safe in caves and they're not. So now verse number 23:

“The birds kept coming and they entered the tunnel right as the entire tunnel collapsed on them. And they were crushed flat and buried under the rubble. It was almost like the overpass was just gone. The flags were now burning and they had burned to ash. You could see the residue of the flag ash, but the wind was blowing the residue of the flag away.”

So I think the burning of the American flag represents another judgment that we find in the Book of Revelation and that's the judgment on the harlot Babylon, which is burned with fire in one hour. So I think Dana Coverstone is actually describing two different major events as found in Bible prophecy and we can see that it affects the United States. Let's look at verse number 24.

“And out of the rubble comes the man. He carries the maul in his hands. The spike's gone and he's just carrying it about halfway up the handle, not right next to the maul part itself but about halfway down the handle. He takes the helmet off his head and places the maul down on the ground. And then he said this: ‘Justice for all is coming but will not be seen by the many who needed it desperately. Bracing is required to stay the course but it will be a course of consequence.’ Let me say that again ...” And then Dana Coverstone retweeted what he said, “Justice for all is coming but will not be seen by the many who needed it desperately. Bracing is required to stay the course but it will be a course of consequence.”

So I'm sure that those who do not see justice coming refer to those in the cave the black crows, the political leaders on the right and the left. They will not see this prophecy coming. They are the ones who are in the cave who are blind. They are the ones who needed to see it desperately and they won't see it. And for the rest of us, what we have to do is to stay the course. And I think that's very similar to the conclusion of quite a few other of Dana Coverstone's dreams. And where he says 'Hold your breath', for example, 'Brace yourself', 'Stay the course', these messages, from here on out now, are for the rest of us. We are the patriots. And this next scene I think shows us the consequences that he is talking about, the consequence of staying the course. That would be verse number 25:

“And then the ground began to shake and men, I saw men, none of whom were soldiers. There was not one military person involved in what I'm about to say. I saw men taking up arms and lining up ready to fight. These were men wearing camouflage jackets. They had AR-15s over their shoulders. They had caps on their heads. They were wearing boots. It was not military, this was just citizenry, this was just people."

Man firing an AR-15 rifle

So we're coming to the conclusion of Dana's dream, the consequence of staying on the course as he says. What we must do is we must be prepared to fight. So now, the next verse is the last verse, verse number 26.

"And they're taking up arms and they're lining up ready to fight almost like you would have seen during the American Revolution when the British would line up to fight. Then they have the guns that they were just lining up, stepping one next to another. That's when I heard the sound of Reveille in the background. It started getting louder and louder and louder and louder and the men marched forward; weapons came up, and there were shouts and then I awakened from the dream."

Certainly it was a very powerful dream; thank you Dana Coverstone for relating it to us. I think it is very prophetic. I think we see that neither the Left nor the Right are prepared to fight for this country. They are the ones who are destroyed by Almighty God. And also it doesn't look as if we're going to be able to depend on the military, because these are obviously malicious. And I think that the message is that we patriots are the ones who must be prepared to fight another American revolution. I think that's the message from Almighty God, from the Holy Spirit, through Dana Coverstone, to we patriots.

So that is the conclusion of Dana Coverstone's dream. That is my interpretation and I just noticed before I started this program that Dana Coverstone has just done another video, a new dream called the 'Plum Line Dream'. So he's keeping me busy and I am sure that I will have to do a video on that also. Sometimes his dreams are not prophetic. In other words sometimes his dreams are very obvious to everybody and there's no sense of interpreting those, but I felt that this dream had to be interpreted.
