

“DANA COVERSTONE PROPHECY: POPE BENEDICT WAS A SATANIC SACRIFICE”

Mary's School Of Prophecy
[broadcast 1/23/2023]

William Tapley is quoted herein, unless Paula is indicated:

Welcome once again, everyone, to Mary's School of Prophecy. We do have kind of a special program tonight; because one year ago, a little over a year ago, Dana Coverstone had a very interesting dream called, “The Three Dragons Dream” [which he narrated in his live broadcast on 12/18/2021]. And I did a decode video [the following day]. But I have re-studied it lately—especially since the death of Pope Benedict—and I've come to some startling conclusions. And that is that two of the three dragons I did not have right in that dream. And that is because I was not allowed to reveal what actually that dream was about. And Paula and I have both discovered a lot of startling interpretations of Dana Coverstone's dream, regarding the death of Pope Benedict. And we've come to the conclusion that it was, in fact, a satanic sacrifice. And we're going to go over that on this program. We're going to go through that dream totally.

And I'm going to call up Paula in just a minute, but first I'm going to want to do the housekeeping. We always have a few stragglers out in the hallway; you know, the students are wandering in, they're late for class, they're not the ones that get A's. The ones that want to get A's in this course are already in their seats, and you know who you are; but there are always a few stragglers. Anyway, for those of you who would like to contact me, here's my name and address: William Tapley, Post Office Box 291, Osage, Iowa 50461. And that's all there is to the housekeeping. So, let me put in a call to Paula, because she's going to help me on this decode. She gave me a lot of very interesting interpretations. I hope she is available to help me out. Hello, Paula, this is William calling.

Paula: Hello, Mr. Tapley, how are you today?

I'm doing fine, and how about yourself?

Paula: Oh, I'm excellent, thank you! How was your rehab?

Oh, good. This was the best ever. My rehab went very well: I did the half-mile, and there was no strain at all—in fact, I started flirting with a nurse. So, you know I'm about due to get discharged if I start doing too much of that; I've got to be more careful about that! In any event, I think we can get to the program tonight, because I know you have a lot of very interesting interpretations. And it's kind of scary, because I did not see this coming at all; and that is, that the three dragons are not quite exactly what I had predicted. And I think we should go through this. I think you agree with me that the Red Dragon was satan, right?

Paula: Absolutely.

Okay, now the White Dragon I had [previously] said was Pope Francis. But I think it's pretty obvious now that it is Pope Benedict.

Paula: Right—well, I think it could also be the papacy in general. But there are particular points in Dana's dream where it applies to particular popes.

Okay, let's go through it. I'm gonna put it on the screen here. Now, I'm going to show first of all, Paula, the photograph you sent me of Pope Francis, which was really strange and I think...

Paula: There are actually two different photos; it's not like one is a close-up. They're both different photos.

Yes, they are different. But it was taken obviously at the same time during, this was right around the same moment, during Pope Benedict's funeral, right? And a lot of people commented on the weird expression on his face.

Paula: Well, these two pictures, I had a hard time finding them. I went through all the images of the funeral; and I was looking and looking, and then when I saw these two, I was like, wow. These [two photos] are almost hidden—they're not really out there [in the mainstream media]. And these two were so telling. The emotion that's on his face, it's a look of guilt.

I didn't want to say that, Paula; but now that you've said it....

Paula: I know you didn't want to say that so early, but it's a little bit of a teaser.

That's okay. So, let's start with the, but you're right, I mean that's a guilty expression if there ever was one!

Paula: Yeah, I almost feel like he knows he's gonna suffer for it.

I couldn't agree more. Okay, let's go right through Dana's dream. I know you've got your notes there. We'll start out with Slide One:

The dream started with very clear and snow-covered mountains in a vast background. It reminded me of scenes you'd see from the Himalayas or Mount Everest and places like that. I could see a large object flying in the sky near the mountains that appeared to be red and I could see it had wings. As it got closer, I realized it was a very large Red Dragon, and it was flying low over the land.

Okay, so first of all, I think you and I agree that the Red Dragon represents satan. And that's right out of the Book of Revelation, where satan is described as a Red Dragon. And, as I think I mentioned this before in my previous video, that the snow-covered mountains is a time stamp; however, it was not for 2021—it was for this year 2022. And the vast background, I think you agree with me on this, means that it's not actually the Himalayas that Dana saw in his dream, but rather it symbolizes the entire planet. Wouldn't you agree with that Paula?

Paula: Yes, I think that's accurate. Yeah, it's a One World, isn't it?

Yeah, I think so. And this is kind of unusual for Dana's dreams, because his dreams usually have just to do with the United States; but this is a little bit different.

Paula: That's true.

And I think that's an indication that this dream is actually about Pope Benedict and about the papacy—which is extremely unusual, because Dana Coverstone is not actually a Catholic; he said he's an Evangelical pastor. But this is not the first time he's gotten dreams that apply to the Catholic Church, which is very interesting.

Paula: I think this one is just amazing that it's coming from him [a non-Catholic] and that it's about the papacy.

Yeah, exactly. So, we mentioned that the Red Dragon symbolizes satan. And we know that a dragon is a mythological creature; so, that means that this is apocalyptic prophecy. It's very similar to the Book of Revelation where satan is also described as a Red Dragon; in other words, in apocalyptic prophecy, the symbolic interpretation takes precedence over the literal interpretation. So, I think I've covered that. The description I wrote down here, the descriptions of the Dragon in Dana's dream and, that is, that the dragon is old, that it's red, that it's large. Those are all adjectives that describe the dragon in the Book of Revelation.

Paula: Yes, and I'd just like to mention about that time stamp of the winter. There was a report about the Blizzard of 2022; and in the report it said that 'as of Wednesday, December 28, 2022, nearly a week after the winter storm began, the Blizzard of 2022 was at last over.' That very same day the Vatican announced that Benedict XVI was very sick—to kind of prime people to get ready that he's going to go bye-bye—and then three days later, Benedict is reported dead on the final day of December. That was a fulfillment of Dana's prophecy.

I agree.

Paula: His prophecy about the blizzard, when the blizzard comes up...toward the end [of the dream], you'll see. I didn't mean to jump ahead.

No, no, that's okay. I agree with you 100%. Okay, now we just looked at Slide One; let's look at Slide Two:

And there were groups of people working that land underneath, and that Dragon seemed to be threatening to blow fire at them. And when he would fly over them, they just kind of looked down, looked up, and got back to work and stayed busy. These people would get on their knees, and they would beg that the Dragon would not kill them with fire. So, they were aware that this Dragon was some type of leader over them or had power over them.

Okay, so this last slide that we just looked at, satan seems to be running the world. And, of course, he's known as the Lord of this world, right? And so now, this scene (unlike Dana's other dreams), I don't think this is the United States. And that's why it's called a vast landscape. I think that's the key to understanding that this is actually the entire world. Okay, now we go down to the next slide. Here we are, Slide Three.

Paula: I also think that snow-covered mountains indicate charity has grown cold, the world is a cold place now.

Well, that's interesting. Thanks for that.

The Dragon looked like it was very, very old, yet was respected by the people, and it seemed to have power over them. It moved with this elegance and grace and speed, and there was an arrogance—it had this arrogant, almost like a sneer on its face as it flew over. The Red Dragon flew over the very large territory below, but the landscape was heavily controlled by people that were down there, and you could see they were serving the Red Dragon. They had a crest on their clothing, with a Red Dragon on their vest.

So, this vast, vast world, I think, is another indication that this is the entire planet that we're talking about. And it's interesting that Lucif*r maintains a lot of his characteristics as an archangel: in other words, Dana says that he has elegance, grace and speed—except for the arrogance, which would prove that this is Lucif*r that he's talking about.

Paula: Oh, very good.

And now I mentioned that the people here are under the control of satan. And I immediately thought of the Freemasons and the mark that they take. I'm not sure of that in this case. It could be the square and compass; I thought of that as a possible mark that the people have on their clothing—the ones that serve satan. And pride and arrogance, that is expressed by Lucif*r when he said, "I will not serve!" Would you agree with all of that interpretation, Paula?

Paula: Yes, you're doing fine. [Laughter]

Okay, thank you! Keep your eye on me, check me out. Okay, Slide Four:

They pushed the other people around and were beating them into compliance. But those people, everybody, even the people watching and maintaining the people, they kept lifting their eyes to the dragon to confirm that he was watching them lead under his authority. In other words, the people on the ground wanted that Red Dragon to know that they were doing what he wanted them to do.

Okay so now, this sounds like the Earth as it is right now, that Dana is describing, that we are under the control of satan. Satan rules the Earth. I think the secret societies rule the Earth. I think all of the kings of the Earth are sons of Haman. In other words, they're sons of the Antichrist—including this country by the way, including Canada, including France, most the countries of the world. And a sign of this type of tyranny is that the people are pushed around, as we see, and they are beaten into compliance. This is all signs of a communist tyranny, which is what most of the countries are headed under, including the United States by the way. And the Red Dragon, I think he is in this scene to let us know that the death of Pope Benedict—which we're going to talk about—was, in fact, a satanic sacrifice. That's why this Red Dragon is hovering around. And I was going to ask you, Paula, can satan actually kill people? I was going to ask you that.

Paula: I'm not sure. I don't think so, because he would just annihilate all of us. I think what he has to do is he has to influence people's pride to get them to do it.

See, the reason I ask that is because Jesus said that satan, Lucif*r was a murderer from the beginning. You know what I'm saying?

Paula: Because he murdered our relationship with GOD [and made Adam and Eve subject to death].

Oh, okay. So, in other words, it's symbolic.

Paula: But satan also incited Cain to murder his brother Able out of jealousy, which again was to inflame Cain's pride that his sacrifice wasn't as good as Able's.

Yeah, so I think that it's probably safer to say that satan is not a murderer himself, but that he inspires murder.

Paula: Yes, he's the father of murder.

Okay, very good. Let's look at Slide Five:

I looked back towards the mountains, and I saw what I believed to be a large blue object circling at a little lower altitude initially than the Red Dragon. As it got closer I could tell it was a Blue Dragon that appeared to be flying under the influence of something. It looked like he was drunk, and he wasn't flying with the grace and the speed and accuracy of the Red Dragon, but he was just kind of swerving; almost hit the ground at least twice as it flew.

So, I made a note that this is kind of a poor man's version of the Red Dragon; he seems to be a protege of satan. That's why I believe that this represents the False Prophet. And, of course, the False Prophet is Pope Francis, he's in that role. And I think that's who this actually represents. The Blue Dragon, I believe, was at the death of Pope Benedict; and, in fact, he may be at least partially responsible. And in the Book of Revelation, it's the False Prophet that's known as the beast from the earth, right? And notice that the Blue Dragon almost hits the Earth several times. I think that's kind of the key. I think the reason that's there is so that we recognize that this Blue Dragon is the beast from the earth. I think that's why that detail is there.

Paula: Very good.

Okay next, Slide Six:

It (the Blue Dragon) was yelling at people in a very, very deep voice—almost on purpose forcefully making his voice low—informing the people that they would get nothing and like it. So the leaders that this Blue Dragon had were telling the people, “You'll get nothing and like it.” These people also had a sickle on their vests, like the crest from the Red Dragon; and they began pushing these people into factories and warehouses with poles and rifles. And the Blue Dragon landed and he sat on the ground and he dozed off almost like into a drunken stupor. He would doze off and on, would wake up demanding that people listen or he would burn them with his breath. He was very arrogant as well.

So, that is definitely a slogan of the One World people, that you will get nothing and like it. I think that comes right out of the World Economic Forum in Davos, doesn't it? I think that's one of their slogans.

Paula: Yes, right. And I think that Pope Francis probably has a public and a private persona. And I think probably when he's dealing with Cardinals in private, I think he gets very rough, you know. I'm sure he bellows with that deep low voice and might be kind of intimidating. When he's out in public, you know, he's more quiet and subdued. But he's a tyrant.

And he knows where the camera is. Yeah, that's exactly right. I know when I did this video a year ago on the same dream, I thought that this Blue Dragon represented the Antichrist; and that's because he was directing people's affairs on Earth, like in the factories and so on. But I think that is shown by Pope Francis' endorsement of Liberation Theology; he comes from where, Argentina, is it? or Brazil? Where does he come from?

Paula: I think it's Argentina. And I think perhaps in the past the colors threw you off, that red will be communist. But, in fact, blue, like the blue wave—well, the Democrats [the blue party] are, they're pretty much Communist.

I think that's right. In fact, Dana had a dream where the blue wave was inundating America. And I said in that dream that the blue wave—somebody tried to say that that represented Mary, and I didn't think so—I said that [the blue wave] represented Communism, even though it's the wrong color, and the Democrat Party. They have adopted the color blue, even though they are authoritarian; they're like the Communists.

Paula: And, yes, I think the confusion was, we thought it was Marian blue; but then when people were shaking their fists at GOD, like, 'How could you allow this?' Of course, the Remnant were staying calm and prayerful; but the others were like, 'Oh, my gosh, this blue wave, this is Communism that's coming into America'; everybody was angry about it, and they're going to be.

Right, but the Remnant, we were prepared, we were not surprised at it. We stayed calm in that dream. So, here's another case where the blue color indicates Communism. Okay, let's look at the next slide, Slide Seven:

The next thing I heard was what sounded like thunder and explosions and I looked at the skies to see a very large white object racing towards me. As it closed in I could see it was a very young, energetic White Dragon, almost being playful like a puppy moving all over the place. It was moving with great skill and with great speed and accuracy unlike either of the other two dragons. It swooped down over many places, leaving something in the hands of the people it approached. It was flying over the people that the Red and the Blue Dragons were over. These people had no fear and they ran towards the White Dragon each time it appeared.

So, I'm claiming that this White Dragon is actually Pope Benedict. So, this chronology is not exactly right; because we've already been introduced to Satan and Pope Francis. But they are kind of in the background now, because now we see the beginning, I believe, of Pope Benedict's papacy, when he is young and energetic. And as I was working on today's program, I saw that expression 'thunders and explosions', and I thought, 'I've got to ask Paula what she thinks about that.' What did you, what was your takeaway on that?

Paula: Well, the thunder/lightning strike, which was on Saint Peter's Basilica, but that was for his retirement. I'm thinking perhaps this is a case where more than one Pope might be in play. [Similar to Tapley's La Salette decode, wherein he asserts that Our Lady was actually talking about a sequence of popes, though a cursory inspection of Her prophecy could lead one to think She is referring to only a single pope.] Maybe originally [in the dream] it was Pope John Paul 2; he was very energetic and a huge personality on the world stage]. There may be an overlap of papacies. But John Paul 2 knew he was among wolves; and when he would pick Cardinals and some of the good Cardinals asked, "Well, why are you picking them?!", Pope John Paul 2 replied, "I have nobody else to fill the role"—in other words, limited resources [of good guys]. I think the White Dragon represents the papacy in general; but there are definitely points [in the dream] where it points to one or another.

Yes, yes. So, notice in here, in this slide we just looked at, that Pope Benedict is welcomed by the people. That's unlike the Red Dragon, who rules by authoritarianism, or [the Blue Dragon] the False Prophet. In other words, the White Dragon, this Dragon is noted for speed and accuracy. And I think that is a characteristic of a true pope, like Pope Peter. And his job of bringing things to the people, I think that refers to a true Eucharist and the true Word of God, true encyclicals, bringing the true Gospel to the people. And he's not perverting it the way Pope Francis does all the time.

Okay, let's look at the next slide; we're up to Slide Eight:

They looked up and pointed. There were other people who were waving their arms and trying to get the [White] Dragon's attention. And when he saw them, he would swoop down, drop things to the people; and then the people would clap their hands and dance and cry, because they were very excited, very happy. The White Dragon did this constantly for a while; and then he slowly and methodically sat down and began to sleep on top of the snow-covered mountains.

So, I think what we're seeing here now is the latter stages of Pope Benedict's papacy, when he's getting tired, getting old, let's face it. And I personally don't think Pope Benedict should have resigned; but I think actually the LORD told him to. I think he had to make way for the False Prophet. And now these things that the Pope drops to the people, it occurred to me that they would be like papal encyclicals, which the people welcomed, which they did.

Paula: And the traditional Catholics welcomed Benedict's motu proprio Summorum Pontificum, which encouraged and supported the traditional Latin Mass [in all its expressions]. And I think that that might have been the kibosh on the rest of his [Benedict's] papacy, for the One World Religion.

Yes, when did he put that out, before he was forced out?

Paula: Yes.

He did, didn't he? You're right, that's probably what got the One World People upset more than anything, which is why he was forced out. I think you're right on that.

Paula: It was in 2007.

That was just before he had to resign, right?

Paula: Yes, he resigned in 2013.

Oh, okay. So, I'm sure that that was probably the last straw, as far as the One World People goes.

Evidently, [Slide Nine was inadvertently overlooked during the live-stream:]

And as he slept, the Red Dragon flew high over the White Dragon. And then the Red Dragon attempted to get closer. The White Dragon would rise up and would fly towards the Red one and the Red one would flee. The White Dragon would fly back and began resting again on the mountain top and it settled in, when the Blue Dragon attempted by the same approach, flying closer to it. The White Dragon had popped one eye open when the Blue Dragon began circling, and he immediately chased the Blue Dragon away.

So, Pope Benedict still had enough energy to keep the enemies of the Church at bay. Okay, we're up to Slide Ten:

The White Dragon dropped items off for the people who were asking for them, but then he slowed down. And as he did this, the white scales began to turn yellow and I saw wrinkles on his face. It was almost as if I were watching this White Dragon age right as I was watching it. Some of his talons were broken and unsharp, and there were a few patches of wings and scales that appeared scarred and just damaged obviously from battles and from war.

So, now we're moving up to the time when Pope Benedict is getting frailer and considering resigning. And I think you mentioned that this [White Dragon] is also the papacy. And it could be that the papacy is also being under attack all over the place. And it was just revealed recently that the NSA had a hand in forcing Pope Benedict out. We know that lightning struck the Vatican at exactly 5:55 p.m. on the day that Pope Benedict was forced out; so, we know that Almighty God was not pleased with this turn of events.

Paula: On the video from John-Henry Weston's LifeSite Faith & Reason, that you have linked below your video here, "Vatican Dishonored Pope Benedict", everyone should watch that video. It's chock-full, and you just see how it all was orchestrated.

And, in fact, we'll see that later in Dana's dream here. Don't jump the gun, Paula. [Laughter] Okay, let's look at Slide Eleven:

The White Dragon looked exhausted and began to ignore the calls of the people requesting his help. He just climbed—he didn't fly—he climbed slowly up the mountain, appearing to age even more quickly as he was doing this. So, he was aging before, and now he's aging even faster. So, instead of flying, he walks up there; he lays down on top of it, and he went to sleep. The Red Dragon soon began flying high over the sleeping one, flying down close to provoke but not getting any movement from the White Dragon.

So, I really believe that Dana Coverstone had a dream about the situation in the Catholic church, where Pope Benedict was being squeezed out. And I think we are now at the stage where either this is just before his resignation or very close to it. And the people are asking him for help, but a lot of his papal authority has been taken away. And that's why this slide may indicate that this refers to the resignation of Pope Benedict.

Paula: Right, this is post-resignation. Yes, he's becoming frail. You know, he lived so long, and how long can you fight such a major battle, right?

I still don't think he had to resign—I mean, Pope John Paul 2 had been very frail and ill [but didn't resign].

Paula: No, Benedict was forced out. I don't know what they threatened him with, but he was forced out. And, like you said, I think the LORD told him, 'Yes, step down.'

Yes, even though the LORD was very displeased, the LORD told Pope Benedict to resign. And remember all of the ATM machines in the Vatican were shut down, putting more pressure on them. I think that's well known; at least a lot of people have talked about that. Okay, Slide Twelve:

He [the Red Dragon] was flying down close enough. Just imagine a fly buzzing over your head, and your hand would come up. The White Dragon didn't move; and it [the Red Dragon] cried out with a loud roar, and the Blue Dragon came flying close to the Red Dragon. So, it's the Red Dragon who roared out; the Blue Dragon comes flying close; and together they approached the sleeping White Dragon. Both Dragons had rope and like chains in their talons, and they tied up the White Dragon, who never woke up; he never moved.

So, whether it's before or after Benedict's resignation—I suspect this is after, like you said—they took away all of his authority. And I'm not sure if the conspirators wanted the Pope (that is, Pope Benedict) to continue dressing like a Pope and wearing the skull cap, and living in the Vatican—[but] that might have been to their benefit. In other words, he was like a prisoner. [Yet his presence] lent authority to phony Francis.

Paula: Right, and you touched on that a number of times. And I think that they were using him as a pawn and they were posting all those pleasant photos where they were having a friendly exchange.

According to the book recently published, there was more tension between the two [men] than they led on to.

Paula: But I also think that Benedict was more of a spiritual neighbor, where he was loving his neighbor and loving his enemy.

Yes, I agree. You can see he acted very kindly towards Francis; he was giving Francis every possibility of conversion.

Paula: Yes, and probably offering up his frailties and his sufferings for Francis' conversion.

That's exactly right. Now, I want to mention that the Blue Dragon is now coming down closer to Pope Benedict. And that's because in this scene—this is after the pope has resigned. Okay, let's take a look at Slide Thirteen:

That White Dragon just lay there, carefully, quietly, and didn't do a thing. And the people around on the ground area continue to beg for help, but the White Dragon lay still. They were actually yelling, "Wake up! wake up!" They were trying to get him to wake up, and nothing was happening. He didn't even open an eye. He was unaware of anything that was going on.

And, of course, this is when Pope Francis started to put restrictions on the Latin Mass again. He started undoing all the good things that Pope Benedict did.

Paula: And Pope Benedict was not informed of them; he was not kept in the loop; he had to read about them!

Good point. Now, I mentioned that Pope Benedict was allowed one time to leave the Vatican. That was to visit his brother. Now, did he go to his brother's funeral in Germany?

Paula: No, Pope Benedict visited his brother Georg for only four days while he was gravely-ill. Four days Pope Benedict was allowed [away from the Vatican], but then he had to come back. So, they [the Deep Church] allowed Pope Benedict a show of freedom. But they made sure he got right back! [Just over a week later, 96-year-old Georg passed away.]

I think you're exactly right. It wasn't portrayed that way, but Benedict was in fact a prisoner in the Vatican, in my opinion.

Okay, now the next slide is probably the most important slide we're going to discuss, because I think this shows the actual diabolical, the demonic sacrifice of Pope Benedict and exactly what happened. And this interpretation was denied to both me and Paula, because I think the LORD didn't want this to get out until afterwards; and if we had interpreted this dream, as we are now—which I believe is a correct interpretation—it might have influenced history, and Almighty God did not want that to happen. He wanted Dana's prophecy to be out there, but He did not want it to be accurately interpreted until after the fact. And that's why my eyes were opened. I know after Pope Benedict died, then I realized Dana's prophecy was right on.

Paula: A couple weeks ago, I guess, you were going to take another look at the Three Dragons Dream and you suggested that we do so ,too, in case we could find something. So, I took the challenge and spent time reviewing it. And, you know, my eyes started opening.

It's a very scary prophecy, and I think we've got it figured out. Okay, let's look at Slide Fourteen:

And then the Red and Blue Dragons began to work together to finish securing that sleeping [White] Dragon, which also seemed to have grown in size by about 10 times. The sleeping giant was now muzzled; he was tied to the ground, and the wings had been clipped so this Dragon could never fly again. The White Dragon began to shake but he could not move; and the eyes bulged, almost getting red. And where the wings had been, that shaking made a sound like sheet metal being twisted in a storm.

Now these are very unusual images, and I think the LORD is trying to tell us something here—and I don't think it's nice, what's happening now. I believe when it says 'the sleeping giant was muzzled', I think that that means that Pope Benedict was bound and gagged. They're muzzling a dragon. I think that Pope Benedict was bound, and I think this was a murder. That is what Dana Coverstone is depicting in this. And now he says the wings 'sound like sheet metal being twisted in a storm'. And I thought that is a very strange detail, and all I could think of was some kind of a medieval torture device or something. I mean I hate to think of something like that, but isn't that kind of an odd phrase?

Paula: Yes. 'Sheet', 'metal' and 'storm': those are 555. So, GOD permitted that sound [in the dream], to indicate this is His permitting will.

Okay, that's interesting. I think that's right. And then it says his eyes were bulging. Now, that would be strangulation, wouldn't you say? to cut off a person's air pipe for the eyes to bulge like that?

Paula: Right. And that made me think [maybe] the rope alludes to when Haman was hung on rope. Not saying that Benedict was Haman, but it's retaliation.

Oh, that could be. Yes, that's interesting. And I remember when they were talking about the death of Pope John Paul the First, that just before he was murdered—and I think most people now accept that he was murdered, Pope John Paul the First (he was pope for only a month)—just before that, the Vatican [coincidentally] issued new directives that they could not perform an autopsy on a pope—which was very strange. I mean, he's a public figure. So, I'm sure there was no autopsy on Pope Benedict—which, of course, there should have been. Because, I mean, if all of these things, either symbolic or actual, of what they did to Pope Benedict—all of these things would show up in an autopsy.

Paula: Definitely. He did not look good, when he was laid out for public viewing, he did not look like he died a happy death.

Oh, I know it. It also looked like his face was almost like a wax face, almost as if it were like in a wax museum. It might not even have been him. And I thought, at least it struck me, that it didn't look real at all, in my opinion.

Paula: It didn't look like him.

Well, that's not unusual.

Paula: Yeah, but I had a hard time picturing him as that corpse. So, I was also thinking that perhaps—because they mentioned bulging eyes twice in the dream—I was almost thinking, well, maybe it's because he was seeing what Francis was doing to the Catholic Church; maybe it was beyond his comprehension that they stooped so low. It, you know, could have more than one sense to it.

Now, I was going to ask you about: 'he grew 10 times in size'. Obviously that's symbolic. And I thought it meant that the number 10 indicated Mary's Rosary, and it indicated that Pope Benedict's spiritual growth was through the Rosary. And if you notice that I put the picture for the thumbnail for this program, it shows Pope Benedict in his casket and he's clasping a Rosary. And I know you had a little different take on what the number 10 symbolized.

Paula: Yeah, it can symbolize more than one thing. It can symbolize the Rosary and Mary helping him give his sacrifice. But Pope Benedict was, where it says 10 times, we can also think that means 10 years, because he was retired (kind of under house arrest, unofficial house arrest) for virtually 10 years. [Benedict retired at age 85 on 2/28/2013; he died at age 95 on 12/31/2022].

Yeah, and when you mentioned that to me, I said that's a good point. And like you say, numbers like that in apocalyptic prophecy can have more than one meaning. So, I think that's a good take on it.

Paula: Yes, numbers make us sit up and take notice, to understand why certain numbers are being given.

Yes, well, that's a good point. In fact, if it had been five times, then it would have been just the Rosary; but by using number ten, it was both the Rosary and the number of years of his retirement. I think that's right. Now, it said that the dragon's arms, wings are clipped. And I think that could have been that they had maybe bound Pope Benedict by his arms or something like that. I'm not sure. There's gonna be details that come out about this, because the Vatican can't hide this completely, of what happened to him. And I wanted to make another comment, that the Red Dragon and the Blue Dragon (that is satan and Francis) are working together. And I think that's because, as we've discussed before, the Red Dragon doesn't have the physical ability to kill somebody, whereas, of course, the Blue Dragon (representing the False Prophet) does. And I think that's why Pope Francis had that horrible look [of guilt] on his face at the funeral, in my opinion.

Paula: Yes, I think he incited him to do it, maybe for more power. You would gain a lot of satanic points [doing away with a Pope]. I also kept remembering that broken halo over Francis's head, when he was almost like in a trance. So, the Red Dragon definitely has mystical power over the Blue Dragon.

Yes, that's a good point; because, in that image, the snake that formed (for a few seconds) a halo over Pope Francis, broke into two snakes: one entered into his heart and the other entered into his forehead. Okay, let's look at Slide Fifteen, which I think shows the actual murder of Pope Benedict:

The Blue Dragon sat down beside the muzzled giant and whispered in his ear, "Finished and done, you are, you are." The White Dragon shook himself against the restraints but finally gave up. He shed several tears and closed his eyes that were still bulging, almost as if the pressure from being tied up was so tight [that] his eyes were bulging. And then under that muzzle he took a deep breath. Smoke came out of his nostrils. And the people he had helped began to spit on him and walk away in disgust.

Now, I think some of that is symbolic, but I think a lot of that is very, very real, as far as someone dying from all those restraints.

Paula: I think they needed to muzzle him, because now Benedict was putting out these [traditional] documents. [Francis had worshiped a pagan idol at the Vatican in 2019, and he was in favor of allowing married priests in the Amazon; one year later, Pope Benedict and Cardinal Sarah published From the Depths of Our Hearts, about the essential condition of celibacy in the Catholic priesthood.]

Yeah, well that's the symbolic interpretation. But in this stage, I think the muzzle is that he was bound and gagged or strangled. And notice that it is the death sentence, which I'm going to let you talk about in a minute to explain that "Finished and done, you are, you are." It's not spoken by The Red Dragon. It is spoken by the Blue Dragon, which I think shows that it is the Blue Dragon that does the actual coup d'etat, not the Red Dragon. And the Blue Dragon is the one that gives the death sentence, so to speak. Okay, now, do you want to explain the 15 letters, because I think you did a great job on that.

Paula: Yes, that sentence is kind of divided into two sections: "Finished and done", "you are, you are". So, "Finished and done," that's 15 letters. And so, again, we have 15, because Mary is going to be with him in his sacrifice. She's going to accept his sacrifice on behalf of the LORD. And the "you are, you are": Well, that's $3 + 3 = 6$, and $3 + 3 = 6$. So, the dream is indicating the dirty deed is gonna get done.

And the two sixes, of course, indicate that this is from satan, from the Antichrist. The 15 would be 555; and this numerology is found throughout apocalyptic prophecy, where 555—in this case, the Rosary—is followed by 66, which indicates the Antichrist.

Paula: And it seems such medieval way to talk, a very old way to talk.

That's a good point. And it doesn't sound like Dana. It's not like Dana was giving a sermon, you know; he wouldn't say that. It sounds biblical. Okay, now, it says here that people began to spit on [the White Dragon] and walk away in disgust. And I think that's because there were probably quite a few people in on this. Things are going to come out that there were, that Pope Benedict was betrayed by a lot of people within the Vatican. I don't think there's any doubt about that.

Paula: The other thing, too, that stood out was that smoke came out of the nostrils. So, he had the muzzle, Benedict was muzzled. He took his last deep breath, and then smoke came out of his nostrils. Well, it wasn't fire anymore; he wasn't the fiery "GOD's Rottweiler" anymore.

Oh, yes, that's a good point.

Paula: Yes, but also it could have another meaning, representing the fog that was hanging over St. Peter's [Basilica] at the funeral.

Oh, yes, I forgot about that. That's an interesting possibility that Dana actually had maybe an inclination of that fog that came over the Dome of Saint Peter's during Pope Benedict's funeral. I forgot to bring that out.

Paula: And I think at that time Benedict was acting as a true Pope; I think he was conferring the Office of the Papacy back to Saint Peter, who was there for the funeral.

Well, that's interesting. I hadn't thought of that. Well, that could be, Paula.

Paula: The papacy has to get passed on.

Yes, that's a good point. Yes, I think you hit on something there.

Paula: And they were tight friends, Pope Benedict and Pope John Paul II. I do think though that this dream represents not only the death of the Pope but also the death of the papacy. And that video that you have linked, "Vatican Dishonored Pope Benedict," in there they said we're now orphans. We're not actually, because we do have Petrus Romanus, the last Pope [St. Peter].

Oh, there goes the train! Can you hear the train going by? That always gives emphasis to our program. I always figure that's the Holy Spirit giving emphasis! Okay, let's look at the next slide, Slide Sixteen:

The Red Dragon walked up with the Blue Dragon, and they laughed at the corpse. As they started to fly off, the Red Dragon put a leash on the Blue Dragon. And the Blue Dragon looked back and snarled, as the Red Dragon just kind of winked and said, "Right back to where we started." And they took flight, with the Red Dragon leading the way and the Blue Dragon flying behind. And the snow began falling on the mountains like a blizzard scene.

So, it's interesting that there were reports that came out of the Vatican that, in fact, they did disrespect the corpse. Did you read about that?

Paula: Well, that's in the video that you linked below in the description box. It's an excellent video. But again here, I want to point out that blizzard scene. So, they had killed him, mocked him, and then the blizzard scene. Note the dovetailing of Benedict's [purported] death on December 31, 2022, and the historic, deadly Blizzard of 2022. One of the other reports had said that, quote, "Death toll in historic winter storm hits 50; Buffalo, NY, preps for more snow in the worst blizzard in 4 decades.

No kidding?! Well, and I think that's all significant numerology. And [yes] I think that's the blizzard that Dana Coverstone saw a year ago [in the Dragons dream]; that's what he was referring to.

Paula: Right. We had applied it to that December [2021], but it was this December [2022]!

Yes, that's exactly right. Oh, the other thing I wanted to mention was that the relationship between the Red and the Blue Dragons is shown by the fact that the Red Dragon (that is, satan) puts a leash around the Blue Dragon (that is, Pope Francis), around his neck, and drags him off—and that shows who's the boss of these dragons.

Paula: I mean Francis is doing, you know, the Red Dragon's bidding, for whatever reason. But he's still a human being, and he's still guilty about what he did. I think the guilty expression on his face during the funeral [shows that] he knows he's going to pay dearly in h*ll for it.

Yes, I think you're right. See, that's the only way I interpreted it, also. All right, let's look at Slide Seventeen:

As I watched the dragons fly away, my focus came back on the mountains in the background. And that was when I saw the Man I see, walking towards me with a walking stick in both of His hands. He had a walking stick in each hand. He was wearing the outfit of a soldier prepared for battle, and He had a military backpack on His back, with the straps around both arms. He stopped right in front of me. He pointed to the sky with His hand, almost as if He was saying, 'Look at the sky, look at this vast expanse, look at the horizon.'

So, in these dreams that Dana receives, the Man is almost always Jesus, at least that's who it's interpreted. I don't know if He's ever said that or not, but I think that's who the Man in this dream represents, represents our LORD. And He says to look at the vast expanse, and that's because He's talking about the next battle, which I am sure is Armageddon. And it's interesting that Jesus has weapons, but they're not the same weapons. He has two sticks in front of Him, which He leaves (and we will see that in the next slide). But He keeps the backpack, which is His weapon. I'm not exactly sure what the backpack represents. I didn't even look at Cherie Goff's interpretation of this dream; maybe she has [interpreted what the backpack stands for].

Paula: Well, the interesting thing is He takes the backpack from His back, when He's coming toward Dana from the mountain area; and then, when He's departing and going back toward the mountain area, He brings the backpack around to His front. He carries that in front of Him.

Right, those are His weapons; He carries His weapons in front of Him. In other words, the two sticks that He carried, He leaves those weapons; but the backpack, which is His weapon, He moves around front—because that's where your armor is, in the front. Okay, let's look at the last slide, Slide Eighteen:

Then He said, “Get ready for a fight with those coming from above, and know that the fire in you will be necessary. Astute discernment you must have and fully armored you must be.” He then rolled up His sleeves and shifted the backpack from His back and He took it off of His back with one arm and He held the backpack in front of Him with His right arm, and He started walking back towards the mountain. As He walked away, I realized both walking sticks were laying there on the ground in front of me. And so, the dream ended with Him just looking up at the sky very, very intently.

[Paula: Note that Jesus was speaking in a medieval way (like the Blue Dragon had spoken, in Slide 15), when He said, “Astute discernment you must have and fully armored you must be.” That compound sentence is balanced: the first half has 5 words and the second half has 5 words ('and' is not counted). It's intriguing that the Medieval period lasted from about the late 5th to the late 15th centuries, and included the fall of the Western Roman Empire; the East-West Schism; and the Papal Schism, which lasted almost 40 years.]

Okay so now, the dream ended before Dana or his sidekick there, Cherie Goff, neither one of them understood the meaning of the sticks, which I understand. I mean, it's just that Dana is a true prophet, like Daniel; and Daniel did not understand his prophecies. In fact, he complained to the angel; and the angel told him, “Go your way, Daniel, the vision is for another time.” So, it's interesting that it's the same way with Dana. Dana got this vision a year ago, but it was for another time—it's for our time right now. So, there's nothing wrong about Dana not understanding his vision, as he has great precedence with Daniel. And so, it's no surprise that neither Dana nor Cherie Goff understood what the two walking sticks symbolize. But I'm sure the two walking sticks symbolize Mary's Rosary and Scapular. Those are the two weapons that we have that have been given to Catholics, and eventually Protestants are going to have to come to that understanding, just as Kim Clement said. The Protestants are going to have to say 'yes' to Esther. And Esther represents the Blessed Virgin Mary. And I think this is all going to come very soon with the Warning.

Paula: We should pray to Our Lady Quick to Hear to accelerate [not only the Parousia] but also the Warning.

The Warning is actually for our benefit. I mean it's going to be scary, but...

Paula: [We should pray for the Warning], so that our families will convert, so that they'll be allowed in the refuges. If they're not converted, they won't be marked with the Sign of the Cross and they won't be let into the refuges.

Right, exactly. And it's interesting that the Man tells Dana that it requires astute discernment. Obviously, Dana does not have astute discernment.

Paula: Not yet; but hopefully, after the Warning, the scales will fall from his eyes. I do want to mention the two walking sticks. You notice that Jesus discards the sticks. Now, He brings them down from the mountain and then He just discards them in front of Dana, saying you have to have astute discernment as to what these sticks are exactly. [Like the Rosary and the Scapular, the two sticks are inseparable; Jesus left both of them with Dana.] And why does Jesus leave them? because He doesn't need them, we do!

Very good, I couldn't agree more, Paula. That's exactly the meaning of the two sticks. And, of course, we know that the two sticks were given to mankind hundreds of hundreds of years ago actually, right, to Saint Dominic, the Rosary was given to Saint Dominic; and who was the Scapular given to?

Paula: Saint Simon Stock.

Okay, right. So, Dana in this case, as a representative of those two Saints, he's been given these two sticks (which we know what they are; they're the same, by the way, as the two wings of an eagle in the Book of Revelation; these are the two weapons we have). When Dana said, when the Man tells Dana he has to be fully armed, these are the two weapons that we've been given to defeat the Antichrist. And so, I'm not surprised, as I said, that neither Dana nor Cherie Goff understood what the two sticks meant. It's interesting that the dream stopped there. I mean it's interesting that the Man in White did not explain about the two sticks.

Paula: Oh, and I also wanted to mention that walking sticks are for a journey. It's because we're on pilgrimage here, we're in exile, and we're on our earthly pilgrimage. These are to aid us on our walk.

Yes, and where are we going to walk to?

Paula: Our refuges.

Very good. In other words, into the desert. In other words, it's another expression of the two wings of an eagle on which the woman flies, on the two wings of an eagle into the desert. That's when we need these two walking sticks, just like we need the two wings of an eagle; they represent the exact same thing.

Paula: And because they're Marian, she flies on two wings of an eagle.

Okay, Paula, I think that we're done with this.

Paula: We've exhausted it, I believe.

Yes, I'm exhausted!

Paula: I did want to say that because of our conclusion about how Pope Benedict died, it's important to point out that he died a martyr and, therefore, went straight to Heaven.

Oh, yes, I'm sure of that. I don't think there's any doubt that he went straight to Heaven. Like you say, if you die a martyr, the Church has always taught that you'd go straight to Heaven. So, that's a good point.

Paula: Pope Benedict, pray for us! The only other thing I wanted to mention, referring to the video that's linked below your video, one of the things that they mentioned—I think it was Father Altman who said—that Pope Francis and his cronies, they're the ones that are causing the schism, they're the ones that are going into schism. We who are leaving the Roman Catholic Church, we're not the schismatics. We're the Remnant church, we're retaining the true Faith.

Yes, and we know that Father Altman, his faculties were taken away from him. So, it's not his fault; he did not leave the Church; he was forced out. And many priests are being what they call 'canceled'. Well, I've said many times on this program that the canceled priests represent the stone cut from the mountain in Daniel, along with the Remnant church, in other words.

Paula: I was thinking about this dream in connection with La Salette; and, you know the bishop in white and how he was going through a city half in ruins? You have explained that half will be faithful to the true Catholic Church and the other half will fall away. And that Our Lady had said in La Salette that Rome will lose the Faith and become the seat of the Antichrist. But for the Remnant, 'Faith alone will survive.' And as I was reviewing our notes today and getting ready for the presentation now, I thought of that and I thought of when Our Lady said 'Faith alone will survive.' Now, She doesn't say Hope alone will survive; She doesn't say Love alone will survive. The primary virtue that we're going to need to survive, during the chastisement, in our refuges is Faith. And as soon as I had finished thinking that, the Holy Spirit flowed over me!

No! Okay!

Paula: I haven't had that happen in a couple of years. So, I wanted to just tell the viewers that if you can only remember one thing, remember that. When you're in confusion and you're in doubt and you're tired and whatever, just remember to hang onto your Faith, stay firm in your Faith.

Yes, Mary at La Salette told us how to survive into the Millennium. So okay, thanks Paula for that and for sharing your spiritual experience. And I appreciate that. Okay, I'm just going to read a few of these [chats], because we're way over time already. Okay, let me see.

Paula: There's really not a lot; I think you can go over all of it.

Okay.

Maxula Pretto: Could the dragon represent the Antichrist?

I believe the dragon represents satan.

Paula: I don't think the Antichrist is either of the [evil] dragons.

I agree. At first I thought [the AC] was represented by the Blue Dragon, but I'm beginning to agree with you now.

The Antichrist has not yet made an appearance.

Paula: They had to get rid of the restrainer—Benedict was an obstacle to their plans. And that had to happen first; then the schism (which is going to be the revolt); and then the AC.

I think the date was significant, the date of Pope Benedict's death, the last day of the year. I mean, I think that's another sign that he was murdered.

Paula: Because it's the last day and he's the last Pope (well, physically on earth). And the other thing I wanted to mention, too, was I think that the powers that be, I think they decided it was time to eliminate Pope Benedict, who would just not die of natural causes!

That's a good point. Yeah, they gave him every chance in the world.

Paula: So, then they could just say it was natural causes. But then they said, 'No, he's writing too many things!'

Yeah, I think the Holy Spirit definitely revealed to Dana Coverstone the manner of Pope Benedict's death.

There's no doubt if you watch this program at all, you know that Jesus saves us from our sin, but don't forget that Mary saves us from satan. You have to read Genesis 3:15 to understand that.

Paula: And I think the thing that people keep forgetting is that two human beings were mortally wounded/mortally offended in the Garden of Eden. Therefore, both the man and the Woman each have to have their own retaliation; they both have to have their Day of Victory.

Well, that's interesting Paula. We'll have to talk about that. Write that down for a future video. [Laughter]

Ginger Baker: Amazing decode, Sir William and Paula. The murder does not even set a precedent, as Our Lady of the Roses gave a message about the murder of another past Pope.

Yes, Pope John Paul the First was murdered. I think a lot of people acknowledge that now, even in the secular world, about Pope John Paul the First. In fact, Mary said at Bayside that there were three Cardinals involved in his murder: Cardinal Villot, Cardinal Benelli, and Cardinal Casaroli. Of course, the Vatican has not acknowledged that prophecy.

Paula: And the other thing, too, to bear in mind is that that was a long time ago; so, things have gotten far worse.

Isn't it sad? We shouldn't be surprised.
