

'Pope Francis' Finishes Last in Kentucky Derby

This will be just a very brief video and I've got my polo shirt on today because as my father used to say, 'all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy,' and I've been doing some very serious videos lately about Pope Francis. And last week, one of my subscribers sent me a note telling me that one of the horses in this year's Kentucky Derby was called 'Vicar's in Trouble' and of course we both immediately thought of Pope Francis. The Pope is called The Vicar of Christ and in this case he is certainly a Vicar in trouble.

So I thought, well maybe he'll finish first or second or somewhere in the money, so I watched the race yesterday and of course California Chrome won. And although 'Vicar's in Trouble' was in the running for about three quarters of the race, he faded at the end. And I didn't think anything more about it until this morning it occurred to me I wonder where 'Vicar's in Trouble' did finish? And would you believe he finished dead last! In fact, this is a picture of him coming in dead last. And I think that is significant. I think our Lord is telling us something about Pope Francis: He is a loser.

And it's also interesting to take a look at the winning time. If you check here, the winning time was 2:03.66 seconds for California Chrome which works out to all 6s ( $2/3 = .666$ ). In any case, I thought this was kind of interesting. I thought I would do this video for your entertainment and possibly for your education. In any case, next week I will be back to doing more serious videos about Pope Francis.
