

Vatican Logo: Family Friendly or Gay Friendly?

I'm sure many of you are getting tired of me talking about logos which come out of the Vatican because they are so evil and depressing to look at, however, I blame you, my subscribers, because you are the ones who keep me apprised of all these events. Now, this logo is not a brand new logo. This is from last October's Synod on the Family in Rome and I'm not sure if they will use the same thing this year because there is also going to be a Synod this October in Rome. And they will be discussing very many of the same things and, Pope Francis, who I believe is the False Prophet, will be trying to promote his agenda and that is to give Communion to divorced and remarried Catholics and this will bring about the abomination of desolation and that will signal the time when all Catholics must "flee their green field" as Jesus refers to the Catholic Church in the Olivet Discourse.

Logo of the Synod on Bishops on the family in Rome 2014

Now this logo has many of the features we have seen in previous logos, for example, the Cross, notice, is, I guess you would say, destroyed or exploded, is broken off into four pieces and it is dominated by, I guess those are figures in the middle, they have round heads, maybe Charlie Brown-type figures and, once again, you can't tell if those figures are male or female. There is no distinguishing form between them. There is a distinguishing color and a distinguishing size but really they are almost identical.

Logo of World Youth Day, Kraków, Poland

And if we look at previous logos, for example, the one for World Youth Day, in that image the Cross is also exploded or destroyed. In fact, the bottom part of that Cross is actually not part of the Cross, it's part of a figure at the bottom. That is, of course, as I explained before, a combination of two Egyptian pagan symbols: the Egyptian cow goddess, Hathor, and an Ankh Cross.

Now, getting back to the Synod of Bishops Family logo for last Fall, maybe again for this Fall, the non- distinguishing characteristics between the two figures is very similar to the logo we saw for the World Meeting of Families coming up in Philadelphia in which all those figures are male: the four obvious ones and the three hidden ones and it shows really, in my opinion, gay marriage.

Logo for the World Meeting of Families Philadelphia 2015

So, once again, looking at this October from last year's Synod of Bishops, that also in my opinion is not showing a family. If it is, where are the children? There are no children in that image. It looks like two males and, once again, maybe it's showing the two bishops in a homosexual relationship. I mean this is supposedly a Synod of Bishops. Is that what this logo is trying to tell us?

It is typical of all of the logos we have seen coming out of the Catholic Church and the reason is because the Catholic Church is being "trodden under by the Gentiles" as prophesied by St. John back in Revelation chapter 11, verse 2, "and the holy city", the holy city in the End Times is Rome because it's the home of the Roman Catholic Church, "will be trodden under by the Gentiles for 42 months" and we are seeing that Bible Prophecy coming true and expressed in logos such as this one. But, God does not leave you an orphan and neither will I. Please remember that there is a great symbol, a great sign that will overtake all of the evil logos coming out of the Vatican and that is the sign of "the woman clothed with the sun" as expressed in this Divine image painted by Almighty God Himself and given to the Mexican Saint, Juan Diego. And that is the type of image that we should respect and venerate, not those evil logos coming out of the Vatican.

