

Pope Suffers Head Wound! Bible Prophecy?

One of my subscribers sent me a message just a few minutes ago that Pope Francis had suffered a head wound and, of course, I was immediately fascinated so here is the article as it appears in, I believe, this is the Telegraph out of Britain and this is a Reuters article: 'Pope Francis lost his balance while riding in the popemobile through a crowd in Cartagena, Colombia on Sunday (that would be today) bruising his left cheek bone and eyelid but he was not seriously hurt. The Vatican said he received ice treatment and was fine to continue his trip. Video images show the Pope hitting the left side of his face against a vertical bar on the popemobile.' And I'll put a link to the video below because it's quite interesting; he took quite a jolt on his face.

And of course, it immediately reminded me of the book of Revelation where the Antichrist suffers a fatal head wound although this wound was not fatal and Pope Francis is not the Antichrist. However, as I have explained before many times on this program, the Antichrist himself does not suffer the fatal wound but rather one of his 'seven heads'. And those seven heads, if you remember correctly, have names of blasphemy and that simply means those represent the seven most prominent religious leaders in the world who will support the Antichrist and his number one supporter among religious leaders is the False Prophet and that would be Pope Francis, as I have been suggesting all along on this program.

So, let me show you this picture, it's quite interesting, and you can see he took quite a bump on his cheekbone and if you look at his cassock, he's even got some bloodstains on it and it's quite serious as far as that goes.

And then there's more images of him with a band-aid over the cut on his eyebrow.

So I would say this is not the wound spoken of in the book of Revelation because it's not fatal, at least not yet. Now remember, the Antichrist and the False Prophet conspire together and this wound to his head, his number one head, the False Prophet, John says 'as it were'; in other words, it's a false flag. Will Pope Francis make this into a fatal wound? Will he see an opportunity here? You know he also claims to be the 'bishop dressed in white', as described in the Third Secret of Fatima, and there have been cases where blood clots can form or staph infections can get into a wound. This is something for you subscribers to be alert to, so keep me informed of what you see, and thank you for letting me know about this case.
