

What Do Catholics and Satanists Have in Common?

On this program I want to answer the question: 'What do Catholics and Satanists have in common?' And the answer is: we both know that Mary is destined to crush the head of Satan; and this was very much in evidence earlier this week when the Satanists out in Oklahoma City conducted a black mass with a desecration of Mary and a statue of Mary which they smashed.

And I want to read from an article on that which was found on the internet. Maybe you can see the picture; this is of the Christians protesting this satanic black mass and desecration of Mary and this was posted on August the 19th, that's Friday, and it was written by Elisa Meyer:

<https://www.worldreligionnews.com/religion-news/christianity/christians-protest-black-mass-with-prayer-services-in-oklahoma>

'A black mass ritual was held on Monday, August the 15th, which also happens to be the day the Catholic Church celebrates the Assumption of Mary, (well I don't think it's a question of 'it happens to be the day'. When they chose to do this Satanic black mass and this blaspheming of Mary they knew full well it was a feast day in the Catholic Church) was responded to by Christians with a prayer meeting in Oklahoma City.' And I think about a thousand Christians, both Catholics and Protestants, came out to oppose this desecration of Mary and the Catholic Church. 'Unlike Satanic churches, which use Satan only as a symbol of everything that opposes what they call as religious superstitions, this ritual was conducted by Satanists who sees Satan as a supernatural entity to be worshipped.'

Well, I disagree with this writer. I think all Satanists worship Satan. So, this was not unusual as far as that goes. Now, if this were a private Satanic black mass they would involve human sacrifice but since this was a public black mass in which they tried to recruit new members, they left out the human sacrifice, although it was still pretty disgusting as you will see in a minute. 'Calling this ritual an offense against God, protesters decided the best way to counter the black mass would be by holding public acts of atonement and reparation'. Well, I hope this public act of reparation by, as I say, a thousand Christians who turned up to oppose this black mass, I hope this appeases the wrath of Almighty God for the sake of you people in Oklahoma City. Woe to you if that was not a satisfactory atonement.

You all should have come out and opposed this horrible desecration and blasphemy of Almighty God and the Blessed Mother. 'The Catholic Church gave a call to the faithful to spend time in prayer and spiritual activities to make up for the blasphemies that the Satanists committed. The Satanists also held a consumption of Mary ritual (now listen to this) which involved the desecration of a statue of Mary'. Satanists not only hate Mary but they hate images of Mary which ought to tell you something: you should have images of Mary in your home. Now, listen to what they did to this statue: 'they desecrated the statue with menstrual blood, (aren't these nice people?) sulfur, and even the ashes of a burned Quran'.

Oh, oh, now they're treading into dangerous territory! You can't insult Islam the way you insult Catholics. If they hear about this you Satanists in trouble. 'A pig's heart was placed in the chest cavity of the statue (I hope there aren't any little kids listening to this program) which the priestess conducting the ritual consumed after smashing the statue.' Now, smashing statues of Mary is not that unusual. You can find Protestant ministers smashing statues of Mary all over YouTube. They are also inspired by Satan. Satan hates images of Mary because he knows his destiny.

'Paul Coakley, the Catholic archbishop of Oklahoma, urged parishioners to participate in a prayer service and an ecumenical prayer walk that was held that day. The archbishop said that in times like this the only way that evil could be battled against was if the faithful would come together in prayer and devotion (and I'm very pleased that both Catholics and Protestants worked together on this because we do have a common enemy) imploring God to watch over his community and protect it from the destructive and violent attacks that arise from satanic manifestations in the world.'

And I want to thank very much World Religion News for bringing this to our attention. This Satanic black mass was really covered very little in the news media. And now I want to show you an image of Mary painted by Almighty God Himself and that is Our Lady of Guadalupe and this should tell you that images of Mary are not evil like some people try to claim. Why would Satan hate this image if it were evil? He would promote it. Satan has tried to destroy this image of Our Lady of Guadalupe in Mexico City just like he smashed the image of Mary out in Oklahoma City. This is a miraculous image painted by Almighty God Himself. It's really a fascinating story; you should read about it and Satan knows that Mary is going to crush his head. That's why he hates this and if you take a look at Our Lady of Guadalupe, take a look at that black crescent moon at the bottom. It's black and it represents quite a few different things. First of all it represents the serpent and it shows that Mary will crush the serpent. It also represents Hathor the cow goddess because it's not only a crescent but there are two horns on either side and Mary is standing in front of the sun.

Remember that horrible image which the Vatican showed at the canonization of the two popes, Pope John the 23rd and Pope John Paul II, made out of flowers?

The horns at the bottom secretly representing God the Father and God the Son and the oval in the center representing the Holy Spirit. Of course, that was instead a perversion of the Trinity. Well, Mary is going to crush that image also, that is, the image of Hathor the cow goddess and that black crescent at the bottom also represents Islam because Mary is going to defeat all the forces of evil in this world. Her seed, that is, we, the remnant Catholic Church, are going to defeat the seed of the serpent!
