

iPad Prophecy: Super Bowl Disaster!

This will be a very short video; I want to take one last look at that evil, iPad commercial before Super Bowl Sunday and especially this image of a false flag event. And some of you, my subscribers, gave me some very interesting, perceptive comments. Genesis 667 wrote: 'Clearly something is about to happen. I kept looking at that iPad picture and it's definitely showing the big event; it appears at 33 seconds.'

Well, you are so right. I checked that out myself. That is not accidental, people. 'And that is the Illuminati's favorite number, just like 33 weddings at the Grammys to mock God.' And, don't forget, 33 is the highest level in Freemasonry. 'I know that they love to turn everything upside down to hide their plans. If you look at that iPad drawing upside down, it reminds me of the Hoover Dam.'

Well, that's very interesting. Let's take a look at this upside down. I agree, this definitely looks like Hoover Dam. This could be a splash, this could be an explosion, this could be water below the dam. And Jonathan Kleck has stated many times that the Lord told him Hoover Dam would be blown-up on 11-11-11. And don't forget, in Roman numerals, the number II looks like the number 11. Could it actually be on 2-2-2 that Hoover Dam experiences a false flag attack?

And vayacondios426 writes: 'Or maybe Super Bowl Sunday in the second quarter, or the second half.' Yes, that could be. February 2nd would be 2-2, and I thought maybe 2 o'clock in the morning or at two o'clock in the afternoon but, it could be the second quarter or the second half. And here's what Matthew Mutrie writes: 'Another thought about the picture behind you is that the nuclear explosion could be birthed from within and not a bomb flying from the outside. Also, it is interesting that the lines in that picture form a significant hourglass which may indicate a short amount of time left.'

You're right Matthew. Let's look at this picture sideways: another good observation. This does look like an hourglass and maybe these are the last few grains of sand about to go through.

And some people have suggested I'll be embarrassed if there is no attack tomorrow on Super Bowl Sunday. No, I won't be embarrassed. I'll take credit for preventing this false flag event, and you can take credit also. A great many of you have helped me to analyze exactly what the Illuminati are planning in this picture, and hopefully, you and I together, will stop this horrendous attack upon the United States!
