

What Does 'etc' Mean in the 3rd Secret of Fatima?

One of the more mysterious parts of the secrets of Fatima is the first sentence of the Third Secret and that is: 'In Portugal the dogma of the faith will always be preserved, etc.' A lot of Fatima scholars have questioned what that word 'etc' means and they have theorized that the rest of the Third Secret must be about faith and since the Third Secret as released by the Vatican is not about faith, but rather about the martyrdom of the 'Bishop in White', they believe the Vatican is holding out on us. But I disagree; I believe the Vatican, although they've made a lot of mistakes recently, I believe that is the true Third Secret of Fátima. And what Mary was doing when she gave that first sentence is beginning a list of all the countries in the world; in other words, in some countries like Portugal the dogma of the faith will be preserved while in others, it will not.

We now know, for example, that in Poland the dogma of the faith will always be preserved. We now know that in Malta the dogma of the faith will NOT be preserved and in Germany the dogma of the faith will NOT be preserved. So what am I talking about? Well, the most important dogma of the faith is the real presence of our Lord in the Eucharist, in the bread and wine as consecrated by a Roman Catholic priest. But the bishops in Malta and Germany are following the apostolic exhortation of Pope Bergoglio and in that apostolic exhortation, footnote number 351 (a number which is backwards from the Rosary number of 153) he says that there are cases where people living in mortal sin MAY receive Holy Communion and that invalidates the Eucharist of any priest who follows that rule. There are three requirements for a valid Eucharist, as I've mentioned many times: the priest must use the same matter as Jesus used; he must use the same words that Jesus used; and he must have the same intention that Jesus had and Jesus did not intend to give that which is holy to the dogs. So, by ruining the intention of the priest, Pope Francis has taken away the validity of the Eucharist; he has brought in the Abomination of Desolation as spoken of by Daniel the prophet in his chapter 10, verse number 3, and chapter 12 verse number 11.

Just this past year, four Cardinals wrote a Dubia to the Pope, (Dubia means doubt) because they realized that some countries were adopting Bergoglio's footnote 351 and some were not and they are asking him for clarification. As I said at the time, this Pope is in the business of obfuscation not clarification. Now they are asking for an audience with the Pope just this past week and again, I believe he will put them off. He does not want to clarify his position because he knows it goes against everything that Jesus taught and St. Paul taught. St. Paul said: 'Anyone who eats and drinks the body and blood of our Lord unworthily is guilty of the body and blood of our Lord.' So now the question is, which category does your country belong to? Will your bishops preserve the dogma of the faith, as in Portugal and Poland, or will they discard the dogma of the faith as in Malta and Germany? Here in the United States, the bishops are having a convocation in Orlando from July the 1st to July the 4th and, although they have not mentioned this in their official agenda, I would not be surprised if they try to sneak in a determination that America will follow Bergoglio and allow divorced and civilly remarried Catholics to receive the Eucharist, which will invalidate the consecrations of all priests in this country unless, and this is a big unless, unless they publicly disavow this new move by the False Prophet, Pope Bergoglio.

Now, here is a logo for this convocation of Bishops in Orlando and I think I've shown you this before; and you can see that it's very discouraging because the two wings of the Dove form two horns and between the two horns there is an open oval or circular shape, and that is a perversion of the Divine Trinity. It's based on the Egyptian pagan goddess, Hathor and the sun god, Ra. It perverts God the Father and God the Son as masculine entities and God the Holy Spirit as a feminine entity.

It's kind of interesting, as I was doing research, I came across another convocation this fall; this is the National Council of Catholic Women, and wouldn't you know, they have adapted the same type of a logo, that is, a logo of the One World Religion.

Notice that circular arc which forms the two horns and the circle in the center which is a perversion of the Holy Spirit. It also shows a crescent as in Islam; and as I have often said on this program, that image of the One World Religion will be defeated by the Blessed Virgin Mary.

And I've shown this many times before; this image was painted by Almighty God! As you can see, Mary is crushing the serpent. The two horns at the bottom, which is also Islam, and she is clothed in the Sun, she is blocking out the sun god, Ra.

And so in conclusion, all of us need to be especially wary next week when the bishops convene in Florida here in the United States. Will they have us join Portugal in keeping the dogma of the faith or will they discard the dogma of the faith in order to join the modernist heresy of our current Pope, Pope Bergoglio?
