

Dana Coverstone's "Mud Dream" Complete Decode

Pastor Dana Coverstone

This program is about an amazing dream which Dana Coverstone had. He is getting End Times prophecy and he calls it the "Mud Dream". It's the same prophecy that he has been receiving in the "Snake Chain Dream" and the "Hold Your Breath Dream", and I like this particular dream a little better than the others because he gives a favorable conclusion. In the other dreams you know he says to "hold your breath", and he says to "brace yourself", but he never tells why. Well he tells why, but he doesn't say how long. When is there a conclusion to the holding of your breath or bracing yourself? Is there a positive conclusion?

Donald Trump can't do anything until the woman who travails brings forth and I've been telling you that for quite a while now, as prophesied in Micah 5:3. And in fact, in Dana Coverstone's dream, "It's Not Me They Hate It's You", he had the five entities in America who could not save America. He went through them and Trump was one of them. The military was one. The church was one. Congress was another. There were five entities that could not save America, but number five tells us who can save America, and it's the same as in Kim Clement's prophecy. It's the woman, Esther who will save America.

So Donald Trump will go over his achievements, which is good and he will show you how Biden is taking us right down the wrong path, which is also good too, but he can't outline the plan. We were told so long that we should trust the plan. He can't tell us what the plan is, because he knows the plan but he can't carry it out yet, until as we prayed this morning and unless Esther is going to start pouring the oil of gladness on America and which she is supposed to do very soon.

Anyway let's go through with this dream. In all of these dreams Dana Coverstone gives a time stamp at the beginning of the dream, and this time stamp is always literal. It's like the cherry blossoms are in bloom or in this case we see it's springtime. Then after, he gives a time stamp, which is springtime, then he gives a transition verse and we move from the literal into the symbolic. That's very important and I know the other people who interpret Dana Coverstone's dream, they try to find symbolism in the literal part and there's no symbolism there. The symbolism is in the second part, after the transition verse and it's very subtle. You have to pay attention. So, once you get the transition verse, then you get the prophecy. So let's read the first part of this prophecy.

Dana Coverstone's "Mud Dream", 2/18-2/20 2021

"I saw a landscape of ice and snow, and there was a fog over the ground that was so thick you could not see through it. And then it began to clear; and as that fog cleared, I saw the outline of the southern coastal states from Texas over, all the way to Florida. And I could see buildings that resembled churches; they had steeples that obviously had crosses and things, but they were buildings that resembled churches in each of those southern states."

So this is actually not a prophecy. This describes the deep freeze that the southern states were in, especially in Texas. And we all know about it and now it came at the time Dana received this dream February 18th through 20th. And the landscape of ice and snow, that's a time stamp, and that's all it is. It's not any more than that.

And when he says he saw buildings that resembled churches, what he means is that not everyone inside is a Christian, as we will see; not a true Christian. And it was only their outward appearances that show they are Christian. They have Christian crosses and steeples and so on. But the test is going to come and then we'll find out who is really Christian. And as Dana said in his last dream, the church is not going to save America. So now let's look at this second verse.

“And there was smoke coming out of each one of those churches, and there were many believers praying earnestly and loudly in each one of them. And I could hear those people praying out loud. They were repenting, they were confessing the sins of the nation and their own sins, as well. It was very much like the Daniel prayer. And there were many tears, and there was wailing, wailing as the lost loved ones were being brought up in their prayers - these people were praying for family members, mom and dads, and husbands and wives, and kids who were not serving the Lord.”

So now, what does the smoke coming out of the churches mean? Remember, this is the literal, not the not the symbolic interpretation. That comes later. So does this mean that the churches are on fire? Does it mean that there is a spiritual fire? No. It simply means that there's cold weather and there's a fire in the furnace. That's all it means. I'll bet you the other interpreters have gone head over heels trying to interpret what it means, but that's all it means. The smoke is coming out of the chimneys. This is a time stamp. We are still in the literal part of this dream, not yet the symbolic.

However the Daniel prayer reference is very interesting. He is referring to Daniel chapter number 9, which is about to happen to the nation of Israel. And he's referring specifically to verses 16 and 17 which are a lament. Daniel laments about the coming destruction of Israel. And I suspect that the people who are praying in these churches are praying like Daniel prayed, because they are, whether they know it or not, prefiguring the destruction of the United States. That is what this “Mud Dream” is all about. So now let's look at the next verse which I call verse number 3.

“They asked for forgiveness for being an inadequate witness and for being anchored to sins that they knew that were wrong but that they had kept holding on to, this chain. And because of that, it ruined their walk with the Lord. So, they were anchored to things that they knew they shouldn't be doing. And the louder they prayed and the more aggressive that they prayed, as they confessed, I saw that all the snow was beginning to melt. I saw that the ice began to disappear.”

So now I know some of you are going to say, ‘Well this must be miraculous, because the snow is melting at the same time that they are praying more earnestly.’ No. They're going through a series, a time frame there; there's praying, and then they're praying for their husbands, they're praying for their families, they're praying more earnestly, they're praying et cetera et cetera. That's all a passage of time So this snow is going to disappear during the passage of time. It has nothing to do with their praying. And what the snow melting means is that it's springtime. This is a time stamp, the same timestamp as the “Hold Your Breath” and the “Snake Chain” dreams. So it sounds like there's a correlation but there isn't any.

Let me ask you this. If you think this was a miracle that Dana Coverstone is describing then why wasn't there any reports of miracles? Did you hear any reports that people were praying so much that the freeze disappeared in Texas? I don't think so. I didn't hear any. And that's not the purpose. We are still in the first part of this dream. So now let's look at what I call part number 4.

“And the snow disappeared, and as it happened, this began to happen in every state, but it also was happening from right around the church. It didn't start out in the countryside, in the land; it started, the snow began to melt away from the church and just kept melting consistently. And that happened as they prayed louder and more aggressively. This also began to happen in every state, began to see more of the United States. It was happening in every single state.”

So I know I know you're going to say, 'Well Dana Coverstone is describing a miracle'. No, no he's not. I'll tell you and I'll explain this to you. This is still the literal. We're not in the symbolic yet. Did you ever see snow melt around buildings? It always melts around churches, and not instead of out in the field.

That's what he's describing here. Buildings are heated, that's why, and everybody knows that. If you have snow where you live, if you look out right now, if I look around my building, the snow, the grass is showing around the building. That's where we used to plant our flowers in the spring. They came up because it was warm around the building. This is not a miraculous situation. It could be interpreted that way and I'm sure a lot of people are interpreting it that way but that is not what it is.

We are still in the literal part of this dream. And then he says it's happening in every state. Well spring always moves up from the south. You get spring in Atlanta a lot sooner than you do in New York. It's just the geography. It's not symbolic of anything and I guarantee you there are people out there interpreting this as if that's all very important and it's not.

We have not yet come to the transition verse. And all of Dana's prophecies, and Dana's a true prophet, all of these verses which describe what is coming to America this spring have a transition verse. So now let's look at what I call verse number 5.

“And as the snow disappeared over the corporate United States of America, it left behind this gray mud.” Okay, did you hear that? This is the transition verse. Mud is not gray. This is symbolic. Ellie Hansack did an interpretation of this dream and she said it symbolizes a volcanic explosion. Well that could be. Now volcanic ash is gray. I don't think that's what this is talking about. I thought when I first read it, that maybe it was describing a nuclear bomb, because nuclear ash would be green.

This is symbolic of something else and remember Dana says that every single state is affected by this gray mud, and that wouldn't be the truth if it were a volcano. You would have to have a lot of volcanoes all over the country going off or a lot of nuclear bombs. He specifically mentions every single state. So let's continue with verse number 5, and remember we are now in the symbolic area.

“And you could tell it was like death and decay. In the dream, I know this is going to sound strange, but I could tell that it smelled like death and decay; it was decay, it was gray, there was no life in it. There was very little green vegetation, no leaves on the trees, the ground was dead and exposed, even the grass was like old, dead, and brown.”

Now remember, this is not a time stamp. This gray mud is dead, decayed. It's not real mud. It symbolizes I believe, the new administration bringing in socialism. That's what this mud is; the same as in those other two dreams; in the “Hold Your Breath” dream, that wave of water that represented communism / socialism taking over the country. And he says there's very little green vegetation.

And if this were really spring, there would be some green. The leaves would be on the trees, but as I say, this is not a time stamp. This is describing what I call Bidenism. That's why it smells like death and decay. So let's look at verse number 6, the next part, and we'll see what our reaction must be, to this mud that's flowing all over America.

“The believers went out from the churches, and they began holding their noses; and they were asking God why He had not answered their prayers to bring restoration to the land. And then the heavens opened, and the voice of God said this, “Work with the mud you've been given.” And some of them immediately complained and began to speak of the hours they'd prayed, expecting to have a better return for their prayers. And once more the Voice said, “Work with the mud you've been given.” And the Voice was firmer this time than before.”

THE IRON CURTAIN

The militarised border that divided Europe into two zones from 1952-1989

This reminds me of the curtains behind the Iron Curtain following World War II; Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania; all under the scourge of communism. And now it's our turn. Remember Mary said at Fatima that Russia would spread her errors throughout the world and she did not except the United States.

It's interesting that God says here that He gives us this mud. Isn't that interesting? This is our final trial people. If we pass this trial, we make it into the Millennium. And we shouldn't be surprised that God is giving us this mud of socialism or capitalism by the One World Government. Basically that's what it is. God also gives us the Antichrist.

The Bible says that he appoints the Antichrist. He has already appointed the False Prophet, so I think Dana Coverstone is getting a true picture, a true warning. And of course he's Protestant, so I think his warning is primarily for the Protestants and he's giving them the same warning that Mary gave us Catholics in the Fatima prophecy. Okay let's look at the next verse which is verse number 7.

“And a cloud then appeared. It was basically in the middle of the United States. And the believers began to follow and walk towards that cloud. And even though they were headed to that cloud, it was directly over some of the muddiest and the most decayed ground. And several also walked away, though, when they were following the cloud. They walked away as if they were heading, because of how bad it looked, they were starting to head away. And those that walked away past the churches, they left their prayer guides and their Bibles, and they said, “We will find better ground and the god that will honor our prayers.”

So what is this cloud in the middle of America which the believers from the church are now going to head towards? And remember this is the symbolic portion of the dream. I believe this cloud represents traditional American values; hard work, faith, family.

I remember Hillary came out against guns, gods and family. I think that's what this cloud represents. That's why it's in the middle of America. It's not on the west coast or the east coast. It's not anywhere near any liberal bastions. I think that's what this cloud represents. And the ones that fall away from the church group, they are the lukewarm. They wouldn't want to get out of the mud they would rather be red than dead. That's their slogan. And that's what this mud represents. It represents communism / socialism, and they would rather embrace communism than to struggle against the mud.

The people in the Iron Curtain, they struggle and they regain their freedom, and we are going to have to do the same thing in this country. That's what Dana's telling us. Let's look at what I call verse number 8.

“And the ones that did follow the cloud, soon were in the mud up to their knees and were struggling to move, but they gritted their teeth. I saw the muscles and the veins in their arms stretching out as they were pushing - it was hard work, and they pushed forward. And then very suddenly I heard the howling of wolves; it was all around. And the mud walkers, they stopped quickly to listen; but they didn't give in to their fears. Nobody panicked. And they just kept back, kept their eyes on the cloud and they started walking towards that cloud again through the mud.”

So I think the wolves represent people like Antifa for example; the criminals. I see they were out in force. This is going to continue. Don't think just because they got their man in the office that that's not going to stop them. They want to destroy America.

That's what they're doing and that's why they are shown in this dream. They are like the black shirts in World War II. And I think this cloud, because it represents middle America, it represents neither the extremes of the left nor the right. I think that's another interpretation of the cloud in the middle of America. Let's look at verse number 9.

“And within moments there were hundreds of black wolves, very similar to the ones I saw in the other dream that had been worked out. And these black wolves, they were pushing through the mud, and they were trying to get very close to the believers. And they would snarl, they would try to bite; but were seemingly being held back at the last minute. They got very, very close to the people; but they would be pulled back, almost like rope was on them.”

Now I'm going to suggest that these black wolves symbolize Black Lives Matter and we know or we should know, that Black Lives Matter is actually a terrorist organization. They really do not care for black lives. And how can you tell? If they cared for black lives, they would oppose abortion.

Do you know that black babies are aborted at double the rate of white babies? Black Lives Matter does not oppose abortion. When they tear down statues, they tear down American patriots, but they don't dare to tear down a statue of Margaret Sanger.

And when it says that there is a rope holding back the black wolves, that means they are puppets. They are working for someone else. They are doing the will of their puppet masters and that's what Dana's dream is telling us. The Holy Spirit is telling us through Dana Coverstone. Let's look at the next verse, verse number 10.

“And they were at times inches from the faces of the people, but the people stayed focused on following the cloud. And they kept looking as a group to see the cloud. And the sky was clear, but the ground was muddy and it was ashen gray.” Again this is symbolism. “And everybody's shirts were just covered in sweat. You could tell it was work what they were doing, trudging through this mud.”

So I call this mud, as I say communism / socialism. In the Book of Revelation it actually symbolizes the beast from the abyss, also known as the scarlet beast, also known as the eighth beast. We call it the Deep State or the swamp. It represents the kingdom of the Antichrist, and that's what's coming next. With the removal of Donald Trump for the presidency, the last restraint on the Antichrist has been removed.

Now all the leaders of the world are called the ten kings of the Antichrist and he is next on the scene. Well I shouldn't say next. Actually I think Daniel 9 comes next. That's the prince who shall come. Biden has already started bombing Syria. The Deep State does not want peace in the Middle East. They actually want the destruction of Israel.

Israel is a faith-filled nation, except they have flaws which is why Daniel prays for them. Daniel 9 tells you why God is going to allow the “prince who shall come” into Israel and destroy the city and the sanctuary. So that does come next, and then comes the Antichrist. So we're very close to both of those occurrences. So now let's look at the next verse, verse number 11 in this very interesting dream from Dana Coverstone.

“And then the scene changed where I was seeing once again, the entire states. And in each state there seemed to be people who were all trudging through the mud towards this cloud at the very center of the nation. It was drawing the believers to what seemed almost like a central point, trying to get to the middle of things. And the cloud wasn't moving; it was stationary.”

So I want to comment on this. The cloud isn't moving. It's stationary. I think that means that it is like a rock. It's solid. I think you could maybe call it middle-class values. And as you know, communism hates the middle class.

“But everyone was pushing through the mud and avoiding the wolves, along the way. So this wasn't just happening in the southern states; it was happening all over the country. But the closer that they would get to the cloud, the wolves began making contact; they were leaving marks, bite marks on the people's arms and shoulders.”

And I'm saying that the black wolves aren't exclusively Black Lives Matter. These are terrorists. These are anarchists. They support communism / socialism. That's what they want to bring to this country and it's the faithful Christians who are in the church, who will save this country. Let's look at the next verse, verse number 12.

“But yet the people continued walking and moving. The landscape was littered with the prints of the wolves, and they were innumerable. And their eyes began to glow with an intensity like I'd seen in the other dreams: that bright red, almost like an LED light in their eyes. And they were being provoked by the winds. I could hear the howling of the winds, and it was stirring up their fur, and you could just see the wind blowing on them.”

So now once again, the red light in the wolves eyes represents communism and this is very similar to George Washington's vision. You should really read that if you haven't, because he had a vision of the three major wars that America would be involved with. And the last one is the war we are now in, or just beginning to get into. And that is where he sees us invaded by a red light that comes out of a, in his case, a dark cloud, but the red light indicated communism. Let's look at verse 13.

“But they were being provoked not just by the winds, but as well by the people who were wearing masks. And the masks that these people were wearing were skulls, witches faces, faces of demons. And they were all on the outside of the mud. And these people were screaming curses and blasphemous words at the believers in the mud, calling them haters and dividers.”

Well we know communism is atheistic in nature in China. Religion is persecuted. We can expect to be persecuted. This is what Dana Coverstone has been warning about in his programs that are not dreams. And these people who are wearing masks and witches masks and so on; what do they remind me of? They remind me of the satanic media. I think that's what Dana is talking about. So let's look at the next verse, verse number 14.

“There were no specific leaders, as they moved along those in the mud.” So those in the mud; those are the rest of us as Christians battling the mud, and the people on the outside hurling blasphemy at us; mainly people in the media. They don't have any specific leaders. “Some of them threw rocks and sticks; and these sticks resembled arrows. And they would throw them at the ones in the mud. And yet the believers kept pushing through towards the cloud. And though they were covered up to their necks now in mud, literally they were covered. Their arms were covered in mud, their shirts were covered in mud”. They were up to their, and he leaves out, necks I think. “They weren't walking in mud this deep. That is what I was seeing. They were simply covered in mud from the work, and the fight, trudging through.”

And the next verse:

“And the ones also were pulling some of the weaker ones by their hands: and a few were riding on the backs of those who were stronger. It reminds me very much of the September Psalm Assembly prayer event dream that I had, where I saw believers helping each other up and going through things and trying to encourage them. But the ones that started in the mud, they remained in the mud. Nobody had gotten out. Though most of them had looked at the more solid ground around them, they were looking at it like they wanted to get there, they realized it was easier to walk on that path, but they were in the mud together and walking forward.

A few of them paused, though, to consider getting out of that mud. And at that point I saw several get out, because the mud was getting deeper, it was getting harder. And they were helped by some of the people who were wearing the masks. And once these people were out of the mud, they were given masks and began to taunt those in the mud. And they said. “The mud is not God's plan; He has deceived you, and yet you follow without thinking for yourselves.”

To me this is a very good description of what it's going to be like living under communism. And Jesus warned about it. He says your own family will betray you. You will be brought before magistrates and judges and you'll have to defend yourself. And these people who are faithful, who are fighting the mud, they're not going to get out. They're going to stay in and fight communism. Now of course we as Catholics, we know what we have to do. And I'm going to tell you in a minute what this mud represents for those of us who are Catholic. So let's look at the next verse.

I went right through several verses at a time there. Verse 17:

“And then that Christ figure that I always see appeared in a white robe, with angels all around him. And he had a sceptre; it was just a big sceptre in his hand, in his right hand. And he spread his arms out like this. And he spoke, and he said loudly, ‘My ways are not your ways. Your spiritual legs will be strengthened through agony; and your witness will have been for the naive and those who have no fear of me. Bracing gives way to fire, and those braced must remain on the path. My command has come out from among them. Separate yourselves as the chaff is about to burn, and their smoke will fill the skies.’”

So now, is this mud found anywhere in the Bible, this dream that Dana had? And I suspect it is. I believe this represents the wilderness that the woman flees to. Remember, a very tiny fraction of Protestants are raptured, but the Catholics who are left behind, we will go through the mud.

Now Dana Coverstone is giving this prophecy primarily to Protestants and that means that many Protestants will also join the Catholics in the wilderness. They think they're all going to be raptured but not according to the Bible. Only 144,000 are raptured.

And there will be many deprivations in the wilderness. It will be tough going. That's what Dana's telling us. And the temptation will be to take the Mark of the Beast and to escape from the wilderness. I don't see that symbolize in this dream but we know from the Bible that that will be our ticket out of the mud, and that is to accept the Mark of the Beast. Let's look at the next verse. We're getting very near the end.

“And at this point in the dream, I saw absolute green lightning, it was green, almost like an emerald green. Multiple thunderclaps filled the sky, and it seemed like it lasted for a long time. And then there were blinding flashes of light that lit the entire country up, enough that even the shadows disappeared, and covered the entire country. I saw when those flashes of lightning went off, the wolves hid their faces in the earth, and the people harassing the believers hid their faces in shame.”

So this is the first dream I've seen Dana come to a conclusion, a positive conclusion. The green symbolizes life. It's interesting. I did watch Ellie Hansack's video and she says that green lightning only occurs in volcanic eruptions. She may be onto something. I'm not going to discount what she said, but in this case, I believe the lightning symbolizes life, and it's green, and that's why it's green.

And in the Book of Revelation we see many verses that describe Jesus' return with lightning strikes. There is much lightning and thunder and I think that's what we are approaching here in Dana's dream. And the wolves and the masked people, they hide because this lightning comes from Almighty God. Let's look at the next verse. This is the last verse, verse 19.

“And then the Christ figure was raised up, I think of that verse, “if I be lifted up, I will draw all men unto Me.” Jesus was lifted up. He ascended from the earth and looked down. And He was raised in the sky, and He thrust His sceptre straight down toward the earth, and He shouted these words. “I am coming soon! And My reward is with Me. Stay faithful until I come!”

So, as I said, this conclusion is much more uplifting. Most of the other dreams, we are told to brace ourselves, to hold our breath and so on and there's never a conclusion. So this way, I think we know how long we have to hold our breath and to brace ourselves and that is until Jesus returns.

And that is the conclusion of Dana's dream, and the conclusion of my interpretation. May God bless all of you, and may all of you have a very blessed evening.
