

The Antichrist is a Rock Star!

One of my subscribers asked me to comment on the winner of the Eurovision Talent contest over this past weekend, and normally I would not watch this program because he is a transvestite. His name is Thomas Neuwirth but his stage name is Conchita Wurst and he dresses up like a woman. I guess he's never read the Bible because the Bible says: 'a man who dresses like a woman is an abomination to God.' But I think the reason he won and the reason he is so popular is because he not only dresses like a woman but he also wears a beard, and that sets him apart from most transvestites, and I believe he is trying to look like an effeminate Jesus.

So first, I thought we could look at some of these popular images of Jesus and some of them are effeminate, I admit.

Personally, I think the best ones are taken from the Shroud of Turin because that's a true image of Jesus and he looks like a King, not at all like a woman. And there are famous images of Jesus where he has been painted by artists like Rembrandt and Michelangelo and so on, but let's take a look at this performance.

Now it starts with a triangular shape which is probably Illuminati in nature or Masonic, and there's no doubt that Conchita Wurst is made to look like a woman, but wearing that beard, he also looks like Jesus.

Could he be an image of the false Jesus, in other words, the Antichrist?

Will the Antichrist wear earrings or rings on his fingers or eye make up? I think it's very possible and I believe this is a pre-figuring of the Antichrist and I think that's why he won this Eurovision Contest. However, before any of you men decide to imitate Thomas Neuwirth and dress up like Conchita Wurst, let me remind you what St. Paul says: 'No effeminate person will enter the Kingdom of Heaven.'
