

Barack Obama, Bible Prophecy and the Election

"Come thou Almighty King, teach us thy name to sing. Teach us to praise Father all glorious now and victorious come and reign over us ancient of days." Well, that was mainly to get my throat clear so I can do this very brief video on the elections and I should tell you, I am a registered Republican so I am sort of celebrating and the election was good news, in other words, the policies of our President have been repudiated; however, that makes Barack Obama a much more dangerous leader.

He is, after all, the Leopard in Daniel 7:6 and the Leopard is a dangerous animal. He is the Lion in Jeremiah 50:44 and he is the last King of the South in Daniel 11:40. Obama will now fulfill his Bible Prophecy and incidentally, I predicted four years ago that the Republicans would win both the House and the Senate. That prophecy was delayed but eventually it came true. I feel somewhat like Jonah in that respect. Jonah prophesied that Nineveh would be destroyed in forty days. They were not destroyed in forty days because they repented enough to hold back that chastisement from Almighty God, however, Nineveh was eventually destroyed.

And even the Super Bowl will eventually be cancelled even though the 44th Super Bowl was held and all of my other predictions will eventually come true and that's because they are in the Bible; and it's not that hard to understand, really. As the last King of the South in Daniel 11, Obama will provoke Putin who is the last King of the North. World War III began, as I predicted, back on November 23rd, 2010, and don't forget, Jesus said it would be 'like a woman in labor', in other words, the events get worse and closer together as time goes on. And Obama has been provoking Russia in Georgia, in Ukraine, in the Middle East throughout Egypt, in Syria and Iran and Bible Prophecy will now be fulfilled because Obama can do very little domestically when both the House and the Senate are in the hands of the opposite party.

About the only options left to him if he is going to do anything in the next two years is to exercise his duties as Commander in Chief and he has been perverting those duties by provoking wars. That's all he has left. That is what you can expect and this is very serious because in Bible Prophecy, America is the Whore of Babylon. The Scarlet Beast she rides is International Communism and Communism hates

Capitalism. We can see that in the headlines everyday and eventually, Putin will take no more of this and he will do what he is prophesied to do. The Whore of Babylon will be burned with fire in one hour by the Scarlet Beast (1).

1) The election of Donald Trump has not changed this latter prophecy.
