

A Positive Message From Pope Francis

A couple of days ago my web manager complained: 'your videos are getting too depressing.' Well, I reminded her that the Eagle in the Apocalypse in Revelation 8, verse 13, cries out: 'Woe! Woe! Woe!' But, then I thought about it and when Jesus prophesied, he included the positive as well as the negative.

So I asked her, 'what would you suggest?' And she sent me this following email about the Pope handing out rosaries at the Vatican: 'Pope Francis on Sunday advised Catholics to take a special dose of spiritual medicine offering some 20,000 boxes of 'Mercy' containing rosary beads to pilgrims in Saint Peter's Square. I now want to suggest a medicine. What? You ask, the Pope is now a pharmacist?' Francis said, shaking a box resembling a pack of tablets after reciting the traditional Sunday Angelus prayer from a window overlooking the Square. The instructions, provided in several languages, say: can be used once a day but in case of emergency can be taken as much as the soul needs. The dose is the same for adults and children, it adds. The unusual medicine box was inspired by followers of Polish nun, Mary Faustina Kowalska, who was made a saint in 2000 and is known as the Apostle of Divine Mercy according to the Italian News Agency. Don't forget to take your medicine because it is good for the heart, the soul, the whole life, the Pope said.'

So, now I want to show you this photograph of the Pope waving his box of medicine, which is the Rosary, to the pilgrims gathered in Saint Peter's Square.

‘Pope Francis shows a rosary in a box design to resemble a packet of pills during his traditional Sunday appearance from his studio overlooking Saint Peter’s Square at the Vatican Sunday, November 17th, 2013. Joking that he’s like a pharmacist, Pope Francis is promoting prayer as medicine for the heart. Appearing on Sunday at his studio window, Francis held up a rosary in a box designed to resemble a packet of pills. Francis’ down to earth way of speaking in a style ordinary people can readily understand apparently has helped draw huger than usual crowds to Saint Peter’s Square for the traditional weekly Papal appearances. About eighty thousand tourists and Romans packed the square on a warm Sunday day.’

Okay, so that is the positive side of this program; but now, I do have to add just a little bit of the ‘Woe! Woe! Woe!’ The Rosary is not just medicine for your soul, it is a weapon that we will use against the Antichrist. It is prefigured in the sword that Judith cuts off Holofernes head with. It is prefigured in the 50 cubit high scaffold that King Ahasuerus hangs Haman and his ten sons on. Haman and his ten sons prefigure the Antichrist and the ten kings of the Antichrist.

The Rosary is also prefigured in the five, smooth pebbles that David used against Goliath and remember, that pebble embedded itself in Goliath’s forehead. And this is all prophesied back in Genesis 3:15 where the ‘woman will crush the head of the serpent.’ So I am not discounting Pope Francis since he is promoting the Rosary, which is wonderful. It helps all of us individually, especially in these End Times; but it is also the weapon, the weapon which Jesus has chosen to defeat the Antichrist.

But, since this program was suggested by my web manager I do want to close on a positive note. She is doing a wonderful job. And, I believe this weekend she will be posting the last chapter of Daniel, chapter 10/12 which again, just like all of the other chapters that I've posted so far, the vision chapters, they also indicate that Mary's Rosary, that is 555 will defeat number 666 and that is Mr. Antichrist.
