

Complete Decode of Dana Coverstone's "Headlines" Dream

Mary's School of Prophecy

[broadcast 2/2/2023]

William Tapley is quoted herein, unless Paula is indicated:

Welcome once again to Mary's School of Prophecy. I'm your host, William Tapley, also known as the Third Eagle of the Apocalypse and the Co-Prophet of these End Times. We have another special program, because we are going to look at Dana Coverstone's most recent dream, which he received last month. And I'm going to call Paula in a few minutes and she's going to help me with the decode.

I'm beginning to realize that an awful lot of Dana Coverstone's prophecies are Catholic in nature. Theologically, I think he's already a Catholic. And in his dreams there are many references to the Catholic Church and to Mary's Rosary; but neither he nor Cherie Goff, who does the interpreting for him, recognizes that.

But of course, my job as a Co-Prophet is to point out these facts. And it's encouraging to me, and I'm sure that when the great Warning comes, Dana Coverstone and the faithful Protestants will convert. They will be told that they have a choice to follow either the Antichrist or to join the Catholic Church. In other words, the result will be unity—and wasn't that the last thing Jesus prayed for at the Last Supper? So, let's go ahead and see if I can get a hold of Paula. She said she would help me out, and she's always a big help—always has a lot of good ideas.

Hello, Paula, are you ready to decode Dana's newest dream?

Paula: Yes, I am ready, willing and able. And, by the way, you look very dapper, Tapper, as Face Museum said this morning.

Yes, I know, Face Museum started that! I'll never hear the end of it. But I try to look dapper.

Paula: You look very nice tonight with your brown shirt and your brown jacket. Very nice. But, yeah, let's get going.

Now, I know you've got the notes there, so break in at any time—just interrupt, okay? Let's go through the slides. This first slide is actually before Dana starts reciting his dream, and he explains what led up to it. Slide One:

I've had this one since actually before January 2nd through January 24th [which is 23 days minimum, probably more; and, of course, as I'm sure you know, 23 is an Antichrist number. I don't think that refers to Dana, but it's a significant Bible number] and I'm not going to read all of the headlines when I go through the dream. This is one of the longer dreams that I've had. And there were between 15 and 20 headlines that I saw; and it seemed like each night I would see one or two more of the headlines, and they would just keep repeating. So, I'm going to read this dream. I'm calling it "The Headlines, the Sheep & the Goats Dream". And then next Friday [referring to 2/3/2023] at noon, Cherie Goff will be on with me; and we're going to share the dream, some insights into the headlines and things, and we'll go from there. So, here we go.

Dana and Cherie Goff are going to explain his dream this coming Friday [2/3/23 -- there's two more 23's]; and I will probably tune in, although I get bored listening to Cherie Goff. I don't think Dana understands his role, and that's not unusual. Daniel also did not understand his role as a prophet. He's not supposed to understand. Apocalyptic prophecy is a specific subset of End Times prophecy. It requires two people: a prophet and a co-prophet. And that's the way the Holy Spirit always works: through two people. And, of course, I've given examples many times: speaking in tongues, or a couple creating a child takes both a man and a woman. It takes 'two to tango', I guess you could say. That's the way the Holy Spirit always works. And I was going to ask Paula to explain the '15 to 20' headlines. Why did Dana use that phrase?

Paula: I think that's remarkable, because we went from 15 decades of the Rosary to 20 decades of the Rosary in 2002 (or so).

Yes, that's exactly right. So right here—in the very first paragraph—Dana is giving a reference to the Rosary, which I think is very noteworthy. I mean, he doesn't know that; but it's obvious to Catholics who are aware of the history of the Rosary. As you say, in the original Rosary there were three 5-decade mysteries [=15 decades] given by Mary to Saint Dominic [Joyful, Sorrowful, Glorious]; and then, an additional 5-decade mystery [Luminous] was added by Pope Saint John Paul II in 2002, for a total of 20 decades. Okay now, the Catholic Church, we will see is found in Dana's dream; and he refers to it as a 'field', which is the same as how Saint Matthew refers to it in his Chapter 24, verse 18. And when I wrote out the title for this program, I only mentioned the Headlines—but Dana's title is in two parts: 'Headlines' and 'the Sheep and the Goats'. He saved most of the headlines for last. And, in a way, I kind of wish he had kept the headlines in their location where they came [within the dream]; but, whatever. I mean, he's the prophet. It's not my job to criticize the prophet; my job is to explain the prophecy.

Paula: And God must have allowed it for a particular reason.

I think you're absolutely right; and I'm not sure if I have figured out why He allowed it, but we can discuss it. And I did want to mention that the prophecy of the separating of the sheep and the goats, which is a major part of this prophecy, is not the same as the separation of the sheep and the goats in Matthew 25, verse 33 that occurs at the very end, at least that phrase. But one of the things we are learning from this prophecy of Dana is that the separation that occurs at Armageddon can also be referred to as a separation of the sheep from the goats, and that's not in the Bible. But I think it's pretty obvious that that is a legitimate way to describe what happens when Jesus casts the False Prophet and the Antichrist into hell, along with all of their followers. That is also a separation of the sheep from the goats. Let's look at Slide Two:

The dream began with a flipping of newspapers and headlines; but one prominent number was heralded there, and that being 8,000,000,000. Every night of the dream—every single night of the dream—I saw the headlines that said 8,000,000,000; population 8,000,000,000. Sometimes it was just spelled out B-i-l-l-i-o-n, and other times it was the words Eight Billion and the number 8,000,000,000. It kept appearing on the front page of the newspapers that I saw, and it kept appearing on the front pages of those papers, as they flipped from one page to another and from one newspaper to another.

I'm sure the significance of the 8 billion (that's not an accidental number) refers to the population of the earth. I think it's actually something like 7.93 billion. But you know the census figures like that are always at least a half a year behind, so it's probably over 8 billion by now. That's the approximate number of the population of the Earth. And that's very significant because it's the population of the earth NOW. That verifies that the separation of the sheep and the goats, which Dana is talking about, is not the great White Throne judgment, because the population at that time will be much more. I've read somewhere that it will be about double the population that we have now. In other words, all the people of the earth who have ever existed would be approximately 16 billion.* Did you have any comments on that?

Paula: Well, they didn't do a census during the cave man era, for instance. It's all guesstimation.

This is true but it won't be like 8 billion every 100 years. It won't be anything like that. In other words, the population of the Earth has been rising exponentially; it's not a straight line graph. The population of the Earth has increased dramatically in the last few hundred years let's say. Well, what are we now in, the 6th millennium since the Bible? And so, the population has increased a great deal.

Paula: And we can attribute that to good medicine—and now we can also attribute the decline in the population to bad medicine!

Now, don't get us in trouble on here with YouTube!

[*Paula did follow-up research and found that, according a recent article published on 11/15/2022 by the Population Research Bureau, 117 billion people are estimated to have ever been born.]

Let me go to Slide Three here. We're moving along very quickly on Dana's prophecy.

And I saw different places: Miami, Chicago, New York, Washington DC, Indianapolis. (I pastored at Terre Haute for nine years.) I saw the headlines in the Terre Haute Tribune Star. So, I saw different newspapers from around the nation. Then other headlines began to appear with high crime, poverty, and world chaos—highlighting those things that were going on. There were headlines about school violence, of teachers locking themselves in their rooms and calling 9-1-1 to be rescued from the marauding gangs of students intent on violence. Those were the kinds of headlines that I saw.

So as Dana notes, those are the kinds of headlines that we're seeing right now, actually. The discipline in schools has really broken down from what I've been hearing. My sister-in-law is a school teacher and she says students these days are very 'needy' (and by that she means they need a lot of attention). It's not easy to be a school teacher these days; and I know that, because most of my family are school teachers.

And I think Dana is also telling us that these headlines are going to get worse. And to me, this is going to coincide with the rise of the Antichrist. Dana does not mention the Antichrist; but I think it's pretty obvious that this is what we're seeing. We're seeing people like him: I won't mention a name (because I know I'd get in trouble), but he has initials G.S. Not just him, but a lot of others are working for the Antichrist. And they love chaos; they're bringing in chaos. That's their goal—just the opposite of Our Lord. Our Lord, God Almighty, of course is the author of unity—whereas Satan loves division. Okay, let's look at Slide Four:

There were headlines of food shortages and starvation. There were headlines of people leaving cities for the safety of rural communities, with those stuck in the cities arming themselves and barricading their homes and apartments. I saw highways lined up for miles with cars, with many running out of gas. And those families begging to get out of the area with people who still had gas; they were beating on the [car] windows and saying, 'Please let me in! I'll give you money, I'll give you this, I'll give you that! Please take me, please take me with you!'

So, I don't think we're seeing that yet; although we are seeing a big exodus of people from the cities. I think they say it is very noticeable for people moving from California to Texas, for example. And I've read a headline just the other day that approximately 600,000 people have fled from California. So, this hasn't been as desperate yet, as the way Dana is describing it. I know property out here in Osage, when I came here a little less than three years ago, was very reasonable (which is one of the reasons I chose to have my refuge here in Osage). And all of the property now is skyrocketing; and I think that's true throughout the country, wouldn't you say, Paula?

Paula: Well, I did see an article—I don't remember where I saw it, but it was regarding that sort of influx. And I did look at the chart of the states (I think it was a 2021 or '22 analysis); and Iowa had grown in that year 0.1 per cent.

Maybe people want to leave the cities, but they don't especially want to live with the corn, I guess! But I know I was looking at a house here not too long ago, just out of curiosity (I like to keep abreast of what's going on in the real estate market), and it was bought by someone from Minneapolis. And they wanted to get out of where they had all those riots last year, and they said that there was a lot of influx into Iowa from Minneapolis, from Minnesota, which is the neighboring state, of course. Okay, Paula, we're going to move on to Slide Five:

Then, in the headlines, the number 8 billion would appear again. I'd see people, groups from around the world, from nations where the same chaos was occurring. I saw people worldwide struggling to provide for themselves and to protect themselves and crime was out of hand. Headline-wise: one headline read, 'Washington Paralyzed in Nationwide Crime Wave'. And then I saw a field that was full of people from the nations: different races, clothing, language. But they were all in a tight circle looking up at the sky but not moving.

We'll get to this circle in a minute, the field, which is very interesting. In fact, it's one of the main themes of this dream. And the number 8,000,000,000 is interesting because this is the sixth time that Dana has seen that number, eight billion.

Paula: Well, not that he has seen it, but that he has spoken it.

I think technically that's correct, which is, in a way, more important; because I'm sure the Holy Spirit directed Dana to say it six times. And the reason is, because it relates to the phrase, 'a thousand years', which is repeated six times in the Book of Revelation. Both expressions refer to this chronological time period just before Armageddon. That's where the 8 billion are ready to be separated into sheep and goats; and just after Armageddon, which refers to the Millennium.

Now, the other important event in this paragraph—and this is the first time that Dana sees the field [in his dream]. So, we're going to look at this carefully: why is this significant and what does it mean? In Matthew, Chapter 24, verse 18 (I've done videos on this), the field that he talks about, which people flee from, refers to the Roman Catholic Church. People flee from it when they see the abomination of desolation. For Catholics, that is when the False Prophet takes the daily sacrifice away from the Prince. But the point is, I am sure, that the field in Matthew 24 is the same as this field that Dana is talking about.

Paula: I would think so.

And the description of this field is very Catholic! He says it's full of people from many nations, races, languages, and cultures. There are no Protestant or Orthodox denominations that fulfill those requirements. Only the Catholic Church does; it's 'catholic'. That's what the word 'catholic' means: It means, 'universal'. There are Catholics in every nation in the world. And you can't say that about, let's say, Southern Baptists or Dana's denomination, which is Pentecostal. Some of the Protestant denominations do have missionaries, but nothing like the Catholic Church. So, by the definition that Dana himself gives of the field, I immediately thought of the Catholic Church! And I'm sure that's what it is.

It's interesting that Dana calls this group a 'tight circle'. And I think that is like the phrase: a 'tight-knit family', which I think is a good description of the Catholic faith. There is a unity, a certain camaraderie between Catholics [universally]. That's true with every denomination, but I think it's especially true for Catholics. We are persecuted; and there's a lot of persecution, as any Catholic will tell you. I won't get into the various stories on that, Paula, or we will be here all night. So, I better not get into that.

I think it's interesting that Dana only sees this one group; he doesn't see a variety of denominations in this circle. And it did occur to me that this group may include Protestants if it occurs after the Warning. Because in the Warning, as you know, Paula, there will be many conversions. And the prophecy is that people will be lining up for confession! Priests will be busy all day long hearing confessions. So, I believe there will be a great Warning like that, and I'm looking forward to it. I think it will happen soon. Okay, let's look at the next slide, Slide Six:

The headlines returned with these types of headlines: 'Weather Anomalies Questioned', 'Death Rates Unparalleled in 2023' [so, that's this year]. And this one was interesting: 'College Lost at Sea' [Dana repeats:] 'College Lost at Sea'. [And I'll let you explain that in a minute, because you're the one, Paula, who pointed out to me what that means.] And then the field returns into my sight; and the people would still be looking up, but with more expectation. One headline then stood out: 'Banks Becoming Regionalized, 60 Percent of Bank Branches to Close by 2027'. Another read: 'Summer is Not Coming', as well as, 'President Who??' That's what the headline said, 'President Who??' (with a couple of question marks behind it).

Okay, Paula, did you want to explain the 'College Lost at Sea'?

Paula: Yes, of course, it's a very curious phrase—and that's why Dana said it twice, because he thought it was very interesting. And, of course, right away I thought it must be a university in California that's going to go off [into the sea] during an earthquake.

Yeah right, that's what I think most people thought.

Paula: Right. But then I thought to myself, maybe there's a university that's based on a cruise ship—and there is!

No kidding; see I never would have thought of that. I think you were inspired, Paula!

Paula: Oh, I guess. Thank you, Holy Ghost! And it's called semesteratsea.org, just like it sounds. And it's a multi-country, study-abroad program on a cruise ship. And I pulled up their website; and it says, “Open to all students of all majors, emphasizing global comparative study”.

I think you found it; that sounds exactly like what it must be, Paula.

Paula: So, by the college being “lost at sea” it would affect the whole globe; it would affect international families.

Yes, it would. That's a good point. It would be a terrible tragedy. So, this is going to be another test for Dana's prophecies; because he's not always right, and sometimes I've been disappointed. But he's laying it right on the line with all of these headlines. We're going to find out how accurate he is.

Now, he mentions the field again. And so, this is his second reference to the field. And, again, it's the Catholic Church that he's talking about or at least the Remnant Catholic Church and possibly converted Protestants. But the field is the same as the field in Matthew and it is developing somewhat. He says the people are still looking up but with more expectation. So, they are developing and what are they expecting? They are expecting Our Lord's return at Armageddon! And they are looking up, which is an important key phrase, as we'll see in a minute. Okay, let's look at the next slide, Slide Seven:

Then the field [this is the third time Dana sees this field] came back into view, and the people are stirring [so, that's a little different now, they're stirring] but yet watching the sky. One other headline displayed said, ‘Mattresses Useless Now, Cash Not Worth Hiding’. [I thought that was kind of funny; I think God has a sense of humor there, ‘Mattresses Useless’!]

Paula: I'd like to jump in about that, ‘Mattresses Useless Now’. I think it's a kind of tongue-in-cheek by the Lord, because what do you do on a mattress? You sleep. But He doesn't want us to sleep—He wants us awake. Wake up! This is a warning. Okay, a double meaning. That could be. Right, I agree with that. Let me continue with Slide Seven:

Suddenly the atmosphere changed, and the sky got extremely bright. And I saw another field, but this one was full of goats and sheep.

So, we see Dana talk about the first field for the third time; that's three times he's seen that same field, and they gradually change a little bit. But now, this is a brand-new field—this is a different field. This is a field full of sheep and goats. And it's interesting that there is a change of atmosphere, as he says, and things became extremely bright. And I think that means this was like a dream within a dream, which is not unusual in End Times apocalyptic prophecy. And this is the fourth field; and, of course, four is an End Times number. So, the fourth field is the final field that he's going to talk about. And this new field contains both goats and sheep—whereas the first field (the Catholic Church field), those were all sheep and they were all looking up. But with the sheep and the goats, we'll see that it's a little different. Let's look at the next slide, Slide Eight:

In just the last couple of months I began to notice that the field behind the church [Dana's actual church], behind there's a little creek and then a bridge you go over and there's a little field back there. I began to notice months ago that they had started raising sheep back there, sheep and cows. I haven't seen necessarily goats back there, but the field that I was seeing in this dream was jammed full of sheep and goats; and they were all just kind of intermingled out there, all kind of hanging around each other. So, Dana is making a contrast. I think this is why he included the little anecdote about the sheep behind his church, because this is very real in his current life. He sees the sheep and the cows in his backyard, so to speak; but the symbolic field that he sees in his dream is much different, of course. This is his prophecy of the sheep and the goats; so, these sheep and goats, of course, are symbolic. And what we're going to see is the separation of the sheep and the goats.

Paula: Also, the [real] field behind his church is a little field—whereas later on in the dream the symbolic field is very big, because it contains a lot of animals. In the dream it represents the world. You have to also mention that the sheep and the goats were intermingled.

Yes, that's a good point. I forgot about. That is like where Jesus said that in the End Times, which is what we're in, the wheat and the tares are grown together. And the servants asked Our Lord, should we remove the weeds? And God says, no, wait until harvest; and then they would be separated, and the weeds would be thrown into the furnace. And, of course, the wheat would go into His barn. So, I think that's a good point, Paula. I forgot to mention that. Now we're up to Slide Nine:

But the sheep were white [righteous] and the goats were grey [unrepentant]. And the sheep were looking up and around and watching cautiously. [Notice they're looking up.] In other words, all the sheep were aware, they were watching. They'd eat and then they'd put their heads back up and look around, look up. But they were cautious. They were not scared; they were not terrified; they were just cautious. They were, I would call it, situational awareness. The goats were eating and bumping into both other goats and the sheep; and the goats were oblivious to their surroundings and even seemed to be bothering the other animals around them.

So, here we see that these sheep are the same as the Catholics in the first three fields that Dana saw. First of all, they are looking up (the sheep, not the goats). The sheep are looking up, they are watching and they are aware. So, this is a combination of the sheep (who symbolize holy people) combined with the goats (the worldly people). The goats are acting quite a bit differently than the sheep. The sheep are looking up, just like the faithful Catholics; but the goats are not. And Dana says that they are bumping into the sheep. I think you were the one who said that that symbolized persecution?

Paula: Yes, they are persecuting the sheep [making life difficult]. Also, in his dream he described that the goats are bumping into other goats, too. I thought that that would be like 'no honor among thieves'; like they backstab each other.

Sure, I couldn't agree more, very good. Okay, let's look at the next slide, Slide Ten:

Now, there was a faint darkening of the skies. And that's when I saw the Man that I see walk up to the gate at the front of the big field. [Oh, there's your big field, Paula, whereas the field in back of Dana's church is a tiny field.] He walked up quietly with a shepherd's staff in His right hand. He simply gazed at the animals within the fence. The goats paid no attention, but the sheep began to walk towards the gate, some moving quicker than others. The Shepherd opened the gate and very firmly said the word, 'come!'; not loud, not soft, just 'come!' It was a very, very firm way of saying it.

So, now we are getting up to Armageddon, the separation of the sheep from the goats. And what occurred to me is where Jesus said, 'I know mine and mine know me', when Dana talks about the Shepherd gathering the sheep. Of course, Jesus is the Good Shepherd. And, I was going to mention that the darkening of the skies is significant: It symbolizes the approaching storm, which is Armageddon. Let's look at the next slide, Slide Eleven:

So, He says, 'come!' And at once the sheep began lining up and walking through the gate. The Shepherd had moved the staff to His left hand and had knelt down to one knee. And as each sheep walked by, as it came near to Him and began to pass by, He drew them near to Him and He embraced them. So, He's on His knee, staff in His left hand; and as the sheep come by, He embraces them with His right hand and they begin to nuzzle. They begin to take their heads and rub up against that inner part of His arm (like where your floating rib would be), and then they went on. Now, the Shepherd kept His eyes on gate.

Did you have any comment on that Paula?

Paula: Well, it's very lovely imagery. But also, the fact that Dana mentions the floating rib: 'like where your floating rib would be'. That was an inspired phrasing, because it harkens back to Adam and Eve, where all of this trouble started. And it indicates why there has to be a separation between the sheep and the goats, because people are just not going to repent.

That's where the trouble started, you're right, Paula. Okay, let's look at the next slide, Slide Twelve:

And here's the thing that really got my attention: As the sheep came near, He didn't look at the sheep. He kept His eyes on the gate. He would reach down; He would just embrace the sheep and love on it; but He kept His eyes on the gate, watching what was coming through. And there was a goat that tried to get into the line. And the Shepherd stood up, walked over, grabbed it by the horns and slowly, simply walked it back to the area away from the gate. He then tapped the ground with the staff one time, pointed at the goats—just like this—tapped it and pointed at the goats, and just looked along that side where the goats were.

So, that's pretty obvious that Jesus is separating the sheep from the goats, wouldn't you say, Paula?

Paula: Well, I have a couple of comments: Wasn't there somewhere in the Gospel—I don't know if it was Jesus in the Gospels or somewhere else in the New Testament—that some of the goats or some of the sheep would try to go over the fence, and was it representing the religious leaders trying to take a shortcut into the fold? Maybe one of your viewers knows what Scripture that's in reference to. And that occurred to me while you were reading just now. [Joyce Adcock: “Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbs up some other way, he is a thief and a robber.” John 10:1] And then the other thing that you'll enjoy: It occurred to me after Face Museum's comment in the chat this morning (calling you Dapper Tapper), that [in the dream] Jesus tapped the ground with the staff one time (well, there's only one Tapley)!

No, Paula, don't stretch things!

Paula: That's what it means (laughs) right there! It only occurred to me after Face Museum's comment this morning.

Well, I won't say no; but that did not occur to me, let's put it that way. Okay, let's look at the next slide, Slide Thirteen:

He then walked back to the gate; and with His right hand waved the sheep in line on; and He said, 'come!' The same attitude of voice, the same level of volume. And I watched as hundreds of sheep were embraced that passed by the Shepherd. He then looked at me and He said, “Get ready to get in line, for I'm coming soon. The spirit and the bride say, 'come'; and I say, 'soon'!” (If you've been to our prayer events or you watch our worship online, you know that one of the songs I love to have our worship team sing is that song Soon by Daniel Amos.)

Our Lord is going to invite Dana into the line, so he would have to be one of those associated with this group of sheep who would be Catholics; and I think this indicates that Dana will convert. Now, he won't admit that, of course; and he doesn't see it yet, but I think that prophecy is going to come true.

Paula: Yes, I think so, too. The Lord is priming him; and when the Warning happens, the scales are going to fall off.

Yes, he'll be one of the first to see the way, I think.

Paula: And he'll bring a lot of people with him!

Oh yes! His prophecy videos, I would say, average over 100,000 views. He says he reads his mail every morning, so I bet he gets a lot of letters. Let's look at, I think we're up to Slide Fourteen now, right?

And so, in the dream when He said those words to me, I began to weep; just began to cry, because I love that song. I find myself singing that song a whole lot, because the words are the same, "The spirit and the bride say 'come'; and I say, 'soon'." And when He said, "I say soon", the sheep began to dance and jump. And I heard, as it were, angelic voices worshipping the God of the universe. It was just almost like surround-sound around me, that was the voice of angels singing. And then the sky turned a brilliant white with a beautiful blue hue to it. And I woke up.

And I think you have a comment about that color.

Paula: Well, of course, it's Mary, we all know that! [And she's the Queen of Angels.]

Yes, you and I know that. Actually, I did not mention it, but I think you either mentioned that to me or sent me an email or something, but I'm sure this blue color is Mary's color.

Paula: Well actually, it's almost like it's both, because her veil would be white and her gown would be blue.

Good point, those are both Marian colors; and if you see statues of Mary, blue and white are the two most prominent colors.

Paula: Well, she's wearing blue and white right behind you, Mr. Tapley!

Oh, that's a good point! I think that's Our Lady of Fatima, I believe, and my sister got that for me—but you're right, there's a statue of Mary right behind me.

Paula: Oh, but it's not Fatima. It's Our Lady of Grace, because she's crushing the head of the serpent.

Oh, okay, I guess you're right. She (my sister) told me what it was, and I am not perceptive like I should be.

So, that is the dream part. And then, Dana added a whole bunch of headlines. And there were so many headlines that he just kind of ran through them. I noticed that Shepherd's Chapel had a program talking about Dana's dream, and he said there were more headlines, more than the 15 or 20 [that Dana had estimated]. Shepherd's Chapel thought there were like 25 headlines. [Paula took an exact count: There were 23 actual headlines quoted (= 666) plus 4 summarized headline themes (4 = End Times), for a grand total of 27 headlines.] So, let's go through the headlines that Dana mentioned after he finished telling his dream. And I think these are all near-time prophecies—in other words, we are going to see them very quickly.

It's interesting that Dana saw the field 3 times and then the 4th time he saw a different field. I'm wondering if those 3 times that he saw the field represent 3 years, and then the 4th time would be added to the 3. In other words, the Great Tribulation of the End Times is meant to last 3 ½ years (according to the Book of Revelation): a time [1 year], two times [2 years], and half a time [½ year]—which sounds very much like the 4 fields.

Paula: Also, about the number 4, when you had read Slide 13 about the Man: He looked at Dana and He said, “Get ready to get in line, for I'm coming soon. The spirit and the bride say, 'come'; and I say, 'soon'!” Well, the word ‘come’ has 4 letters. The word ‘soon’ has 4 letters. So, ‘come’ + ‘soon’ equals 8 letters total; so, it's a new beginning.

Very good point. And the reason it's a good point is because, in the Book of Revelation, there are 6 times that the Millennium is mentioned, but there are 2 other expressions of those same thousand years—for a total of 8 times. I had been looking for those other expressions in the dream, so maybe you found it, Paula. In other words, there would be a total of 8 times that the 8 billion people are referred to, just as there are 8 references in the Book of Revelation for the Millennium.

Paula: Well, actually eight billion was mentioned six times.

Yes, but I was looking for another expression of the 8 billion. In other words, in the Book of Revelation, there are 6 references to the “Thousand Years of Peace”, plus 2 references to the “First Resurrection” (chapter 20:5-6); thus, there are 8 total references to the “Thousand Years of Peace”. So, I was looking for the other two references in Dana's dream to complete the 8 billion. And, indeed, there are 8, by including the 2 expressions of the 4-letter words, ‘come’ and ‘soon’, which you discovered. I think that's very significant. Paula has become a really big help for this ministry, so I might as well give you a compliment. I don't pay you anything else, I might as well pay you with a compliment. When we work for the Lord...

Paula: ...the pay is not much, but the benefits are out of this world!
[Laughter]

So now, where are we? I don't think I've done Slide Fifteen yet. Now, we are going into the headlines:

I didn't want to just overwhelm people with the headlines—but I'm going to share with you now the other headlines that I saw, just quickly run through them. ‘Sex Crime Units Overwhelmed in Southern Big Cities’, ‘Rampant STDs Killing Elderly’, ‘The Zombie Apocalypse - New Drugs Turning Users

Into Walking Dead', 'Who is Killing the Unelected Movers in the Political and Medical World', 'Governments Tracking Assassination Teams Crossing Borders' (this did not say American borders; this said 'governments', plural), 'Gun Grabs Lead to Standoffs Nationwide'.

Did you have any comments on those, Paula?

Paula: No, we'll just pray against all that; maybe we can mitigate.

None of those things really surprise me; those things are going to happen. Let's see the next slide, Slide Sixteen:

Another headline, a cryptic headline: 'Pagans-R-Us Lead the Polls', 'Underground Spy Network Links Congress to the White House'. This next headline is a very disturbing one for me: 'Cancel-the-Cross Events Hosted in Democratic Cities'. Next headline: 'Unholy Trio of D.C. Leaders Intends to Erase Morality Definition'. Next headline: 'Gates, W.H.O., and W.E.F. Fix Standards - Medical Tyranny on Steroids'. And the next headline: 'Launched: Poke-the-Bear, Face Incineration'.

'Cancel-the-Cross Events Hosted in Democratic Cities' shows that Heaven recognizes the anti-Christian character of the pro-abortion Democrat Party. The lumping together of the World Health Organization and the World Economic Forum along with Big Gates shows that Heaven recognizes the evil health conspiracy of those groups. Now, the next headline, 'Launched: Poke-the-Bear, Face Incineration', I really don't understand, unless it describes a provocation for World War III? Is that what the headline indicates, do you suppose? The Bear would be Russia, of course. Here's the last group of headlines that Dana talks about:

And the last headline that I saw, just from earlier this week: 'The West Knows What It's Doing - They have Swallowed the Pill and Got it Down with Poison'. So those are the headlines that I saw repeatedly over and over and over throughout the several weeks of this dream. Simply asking you to pray about these things. Commit solid, serious prayer time. But the most important thing to me was that Jesus said, "I'm coming soon. The spirit and the bride say, 'come'; and I say, 'soon'."

Well, the most serious headline to me was the last one: 'The West Knows What It's Doing - They have Swallowed the Pill and Got it Down with Poison'. And it sounds to me like the West is provoking war and, of course, we see that in Daniel 11. And none of the world's leaders, in my mind, are peacemakers. And of course, Jesus said, "Blessed are the peacemakers." They are all promoting this World War III. Actually, they want to expand it; and I think one of the reasons is so that they can hide their crimes. I mean, a lot of political leaders have done that throughout history.

Paula: And they can make money in the process! They make money waging war.

Was it the "Military Industrial Complex" that Eisenhower called it? I think so. And this particular headline reminds me of Daniel 8, where the Goat defeats the Ram. And I've done this interpretation many times here on my channel, where the single horn on the Goat symbolizes Russia, and the Goat itself symbolizes Communism. The Ram symbolizes Western Civilization, and the two horns on the Ram symbolize Britain and America. Remember, one of those horns is newer and bigger. that would be the United States; and the smaller and older horn would be Britain. And isn't part of the Fatima prophecy that Russia would be used to chastise the West? Now, I think we're near the end here. It's interesting to me that the Holy Spirit is using an Evangelical pastor like Dana Coverstone to give apocalyptic prophecy.

Paula: I think it's to give him more credibility, because he definitely isn't making any of this up. It's so Catholic!

That's true! He's using phrases like 15 to 20. He has no idea that refers to the Rosary. So, like you say, it gives him credibility. I mean, if a Catholic were saying that, you could say, well, the Lord didn't show him that, he made that up. But obviously Dana did not make that up. If he knew what he was saying he probably would censor it!

And as I look around, there are lots of Catholic prophets out there, and I've mentioned them many times: Pedro Regis, Luz de Maria, and there's lots of channels. But I don't know any Catholic prophet today giving apocalyptic prophecy. An apocalyptic prophecy means that it is given by a prophet and it is interpreted by a co-prophet. That's the definition of apocalyptic prophecy: it takes two people, as I've said many, many times on this channel. It's a work of the Holy Spirit. And I don't know any Catholic prophet receiving that type of prophecy.

So, it's really fascinating to me that it is an Evangelical pastor who is receiving this unusual kind of prophecy. And I don't know any other Protestant who is receiving apocalyptic prophecy. And the last apocalyptic prophecy that I can think of in the Catholic Church—and I am no expert on all prophecy, so I welcome if anyone else knows any other End Times prophecy—and that would be the prophecy that Mary gave at La Salette, which is End Times prophecy and which she gave to two shepherd children, Melanie Calvat and Maximin Giraud, back in 1846 in La Salette, France. And that is apocalyptic prophecy. In other words, it cannot be understood without being interpreted by a co-prophet, just like Dana's prophecy. Okay, thanks Paula, I think we covered that pretty well.

Paula: I'd like to point out the number of occurrences of key words: the named cities, there were 6 cities that were specifically named in Dana's dream [6 = evil]. And the word 'gate' was mentioned 10 times [keep the LORD's 10 Commandments to be allowed through the gate of the sheepfold].

Okay good, that would be significant.

Paula: And 'Shepherd' was 7 times [7 signifies Jesus, the Good Shepherd].

Okay, that's wonderful; very good Paula.

Paula: The word 'sheep' was 20 times. We are the sheep who faithfully pray Mary's full Rosary!

Okay wonderful, that's good numerology: very good Paula!

Paula: 'Goat' was said 12 times: 6 + 6.

Okay, very good, or 4 + 4 + 4, as far as that goes.

Paula: 'Field' was 8 times [the 'field' (the Roman Catholic Church) dies but has a new beginning as the Remnant Catholic Church].

Very good; that's all significant numerology, Paula.

Paula: 'Spirit' and 'bride' were both mentioned twice; so, 2 x 2 equals 4, End Times.

Okay, interesting, very interesting.

Paula: That's my little contribution.

No, that's not little, that's very important contribution. Thanks again, Paula.

Postscript

When Paula was proofreading this transcript for Tapley and came across the references to the current population of 8 billion, she wondered what the result would be if that figure were divided by the 144,000 saved souls mentioned in the Book of Revelation. The astonishing result is 55555.5555 55555555555...! This is divine confirmation that, indeed, we are in the Great Tribulation of the End Times—because that amazing quotient is only yielded by using the present population count of 8 billion! The resulting quotient is Mary's merciful reassurance that soon Her Immaculate Heart will triumph, as She promised us at Fatima!
