

Super Bowl 45 Prophecy and President Obama

Now tomorrow is Super Bowl Sunday, and as you know I have predicted that it will not take place. And the reason I say that is because it is the 45th Super Bowl and the number 44 is an End Times number. 4 is an End Times number and 444 is a Biblical End Times number. In fact for this same reason I have predicted, that Barack Obama will be our last elected president. Let's look at my prediction from last year.

"Next month we will see the 44th Super Bowl. I believe that indicates that will be the last Super Bowl."

So the question is, will God use this year's Super Bowl as a prophecy of the downfall of America and Barack Obama? Now last year's Super Bowl was a prophetic event. The Indianapolis Colts stood for the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse. The New Orleans Saints stood for Christians in the End Times, and as you know, for most of the game, the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse led that game. They were defeating the Saints, but in the end, the Saints prevailed.

It was a prophetic Super Bowl, because during the seven years of Tribulation, even though the Saints, who represent the Catholics, will be persecuted and crushed by the four horsemen of the Apocalypse and the Antichrist, in the end, at the Battle of Armageddon, they defeat the Antichrist. And remember, during the Millennium, the Catholics along with the raptured Protestants, the holy martyrs, and the converted Jews, will reign with Jesus during the thousand years of peace. So the Super Bowl could symbolize either the victory of the Antichrist or the ultimate victory of the Catholics and the other religious groups that I have mentioned.

So if last year's teams had symbolic significance, what do this year's teams signify? The Green Bay Packers and the Pittsburgh Steelers are two of the oldest teams in the NFL. They first played each other in 1933, almost 80 years ago. So in my opinion, the Packers and the Steelers represent traditional America. Now if God cancels the game, would that indicate the defeat of America? But if the game goes on, would that indicate that God approves of traditional America? Before you go betting with the atheists on the outcome of tomorrow's game, based on my predictions, let me show you that some of my predictions from last year did not come true, or at least they were not completely fulfilled.

"Today is the start of a new year, and I want to talk about what the year 2010 will bring, because I believe the year 2010 will be the year of the great warning, and the year of the great war."

So World War 3 did begin within the time frame I predicted, November 23rd 2010, but the warning did not occur. So before you bet on the Super Bowl, maybe that my Super Bowl prediction will be like my warning prediction. The warning will be an illumination of conscience from Almighty God. He is going to show us our relationship to Him, and where we need to correct our lives. As I say, that did not occur in 2010 as I thought it would, and I'm not sure, but I think it will occur in 2011.

World War 3 began, November 23rd 2010, when North Korea attacked South Korea. That is exactly within the time frame I had predicted. Some may think, that that was just a skirmish, and not the beginning of the war, but remember Jesus said that in the Tribulation time it would be like a woman in labor, and the first pangs of birth are not nearly as serious as the later pangs. Let's take a look at my prediction of the time frame for the beginning of World War 3.

"Of course I realize people will object to me giving a time frame for Armageddon and World War 3, because Jesus said specifically no man knows the day or the hour. But please notice I did not give you a day, or an hour. I gave you a season and a year. In fact when Jesus gives the parable of the fig tree, He is providing all the clues you need to calculate the exact month and season and year. When He says no man knows the day or the hour, He is indicating that you can figure out the year and the general timeframe, not the specific day or hour. If you look at the time frame for Armageddon, which I just gave you, that is between October 13th 2017 and November 29th 2017, you will find a time span of 45 days, which is exactly the time frame that Daniel prophesies will be the length of Armageddon. And now that we know Armageddon, we should be able to figure out the approximate time for World War 3."

Another one of my predictions for 2010, which I only got partially correct, was that the Republicans would win both the House and the Senate. Let's take a look at what I said in my poem, 'Beware the Cornered Leopard.' "Obama will be shaken when the polling data's in, And it's clear that next year's midterms will be all Republican. His democrats in Congress are still looking for a bounce, But Rasmussen's daily tracking has him down by 15 points."

I did have more success in predicting the beginning of the Tribulation period, which began October 13th 2010, with that Chilean mine rescue and disaster. That marked the beginning of the seven years of Tribulation. Secondly, the downfall of Israel began December 2nd. Now that was three days later than I had predicted, but certainly a very close prophecy. And third, the downfall of the Catholic Church began when Pope Benedict okayed some forms of condom use. As I say, all these three events, were scheduled to begin between October 13th and November 29th and they did, except as I say for the forest fire in Israel, which marked the beginning of the downfall of Israel.

So as I said before, please don't make wagers with the atheists on the outcome of the Super Bowl game. It could be prophetic by Almighty God that he cancels the game, which would predict the downfall of America, or, he may let the game continue. And in conclusion, let me say this, if the game does go on, I will be personally very much encouraged, because that would also indicate that we may also have another elected president. Barack Obama as the 44th President may not be the last President, as I have been saying all along. The primary season begins in less than 12 months.

The primary season is always very exciting for me. In fact I campaigned one spring, for Pat Buchanan up in New Hampshire, and I enjoyed that very much. In fact I wish they had nominated him instead of Bob Dole. I think he could have beaten Bill Clinton, and what a great advantage that would have been for America. So, if the Super Bowl goes on, again, as I say, that could very well indicate that we will have one more elected president after Barack Obama, and I sincerely hope so.
