

Putin vs the Leopard

This will be just a very brief video. My web manager in Australia sent me this very interesting photograph which was a popular tweet in Russia a couple of months ago and it shows Putin with a Snow Leopard, a very macho image, and it shows Obama just the opposite, with a three-legged poodle.

And the Russians are having a big joke about this but what's interesting to me is that this reflects Bible Prophecy because in Scripture, the Scarlet Beast, that would be Russia, is always described as masculine whereas the Whore of Babylon, that would be America, is always described as feminine.

And secondly, in the book of Daniel, the last King of the North, that is Putin, will defeat the last King of the South and that is Obama. In other words, Putin tames the leopard because Barack Obama is also the Leopard with 'four heads and four wings' as found in Daniel, chapter 7, verse 6. And the reason he has four heads and four wings is because he is our 44th and last President (1).

1) America repented just enough to allow one more President, number 45, Donald Trump, who is worthy to take on the Antichrist (Micah 5:5)
